School destroyed by blaze

By Dennis Grubbaugh
Managing editor

GRANITE CITY — The vacant Washington School at 20th and Nevada streets burned to the ground early this morning, snarling rush-hour traffic and capping a week of frustrations for the beleaguered Granite City Fire Department.

Arson is suspected. Fire Chief Charles Bernaix was unavailable for comment. According to police reports, Patrolman Richard A. Werth was first dispatched to the fire at 11:56 p.m. He saw smoke coming from the west side of the school and noticed an orange glow through the windows of a room on the first floor on the southwest corner of the school.

When firefighters arrived there were no visible flames on the east side of the school. At 12:15 p.m. the building was completely aflame.

A women told officers she saw some kids running from the building. There was a question as to whether there was electricity.

GC detectives get Hunt murder case

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Major Case Squad of Greater St. Louis has given the Sheila Hunt murder investigation back to local authorities. The squad disbanded at 5 p.m. Wednesday, said Capt. Victor Logan, after finishing a four-day intensive investigation into the strangulation murder of Hunt, 32, whose body was found by firefighters at her home at 2:40 a.m. Saturday.

The Hunt residence in the 2100 block of Bryan Avenue was ablaze when firefighters arrived. The fire was deliberately set, police said.

An autopsy performed Saturday afternoon determined Hunt had been strangled and badly beaten about the head, according to Dallas Burke, Madison County coroner.

The victim lived alone and had never married. She was employed as a deli clerk at Cohen's Market on Illinois Avenue and previously worked at the Taco Bell restaurant in Fairview Heights.

The squad has been following many leads, but apparently has no firm suspects in the case. The Major Case Squad is limited to a five-day time period on a specific case. An extension of time may be requested if the investigation appears to be leading to an immediate arrest.

The major case investigative squad consists of detectives on loan from several police departments in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Funeral services for Hunt were conducted Tuesday.

Catholic school's fate made public tonight

MADISON — The fate of St. Mary-St. Mark School will be announced at 7:15 tonight at a meeting to be held in the school cafeteria, 912 Lee Ave., Madison.

A plan to keep the school open at least through the 1989-90 school year was announced April 12. An integral part of that plan was registration.

According to a school official, forms were submitted by less than half of the current enrollment.

Council sworn in

GRANITE CITY — The winners in the April city and township election were sworn in Tuesday night by City Clerk Bob Stevens.

Stevens, also an April winner, had been sworn in earlier in the week. Township Supervisor Nellie Hagnauer, Assessor Darlene Leub, Mayor Von Dee Cruse and Treasurer Gail Valle were sworn in along with, as town board members, Aldermen Casner Skubish, 1st Ward; Virgil Kambarian, 2nd Ward; Andy Timko, 3rd Ward; Dan Brown, 4th Ward; Ginny O'Beir, 5th Ward; Judy Whitaker, 6th Ward; and Jeff Worthen, 7th Ward.

The mayor, treasurer and aldermen then were sworn in again as city officials.

During both the township meeting and City Council meeting, the retiring aldermen were seated first to conduct old business and then the new aldermen were seated.

Conspicuous by their absence were outgoing aldermen Sharon Perjak, 4th Ward, and Ralph Astorian, 5th Ward — the aldermen defeated for re-election. Aldermen Pat Schuman, 2nd Ward, and Brett Hunkle, 3rd Ward, neither of whom sought re-election, were there.

Following the council meeting, the mayor held a reception for the new City Council.

GC campus still 'closed'

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Students who held their breath hoping that the school board would find a way to keep the Granite City High School campus open during lunch hours may as well breathe — wishing didn't work.

Alternatives that might have kept the campus open during lunch hours were discussed, but not recommended, Tuesday night by a committee studying the plan.

The April 18 school board decision, retaining students within the campus at lunch time for a one-year trial period, still stands. "We considered a lot of alternatives," Mike Sikora, secondary education administrative assistant, said.

We thought that anything we might do would detract from the plan to close the campus for one year.

Several mounting problems were cited in making the closed-campus decision, including student safety in auto traffic, drug activity, loitering in the Bellemore Village Shopping Center and shoplifting at local businesses.

Several of these problems were addressed in a report prepared by board member and Granite City Police Lt. Roy Koberna and presented to the board in mid-March.

Administrators were challenged to return to Tuesday night's meeting with a functional alternative to the closed campus.

One consideration was to schedule all seniors for the 4-2 lunch period (11:40 a.m. to 12:10 p.m.), the second half of the fourth school hour, at which time they could be dismissed, being the only students exempt from the closed campus. This plan, however, was described to the committee as impractical by officials of other schools with closed campuses. It would also cause scheduling problems.

"Whenever kids leave campus, we have no control of them," Sikora said. "That's part of what got us into this mess in the first place."

Cruse names new officials

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A new alderman, police chief, city inspector and fire and police commissioner were appointed by Mayor Von Dee Cruse on Tuesday.

Political newcomer Frank Scarsdale of 2408 Nameoki Road was appointed as 1st Ward alderman to fill the remaining two years of the term of Everett Morelen, who died in March.

Scarsdale is employed by Granite City Steel, where he has worked for 34 years. He is a member of the board of directors of the Granite City Steel Credit Union and is a local vice president of Local 16 of the United Steelworkers of America. He has held several other positions in the union.

As an alderman, Scarsdale said he wants to get some areas cleaned up, work toward bringing in more industry and jobs, and in general making the city a better place to live.

Although not considering himself a politician, Scarsdale said he is used to working with people.

"I know it will take a while (for me) to break in, but I think it will be a lot of fun later," he said.

Scarsdale is married and he and his wife, Mary, have six children.

As expected, Lt. Don Knight was appointed as police chief to replace Jim Lengyel, who will voluntarily step down May 8. Lengyel will remain on the police force as a captain.

Knight is currently a lieutenant in charge of administrative services. He joined the police force in October 1970. He has received numerous awards and commendations and is best known for his work as a detective.

Knight has been a member of most of the area's multi-department investigative units, including the Madison County Arson Squad, the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of

DARE program now integral part of curriculum

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — For many sixth-graders here, a red plastic binder represents a part of the curriculum every bit as important as, if not more so, than reading, writing and arithmetic.

The binders contain lessons for the DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) program instituted in Granite City just a few months ago.

Started in Los Angeles in 1984, the 17-week program is taught by uniformed policemen and targeted at sixth-graders, reaching them before they start junior high school — where they are likely to be confronted with drugs.

Officer Walter Milton of the Granite City Police Department is the DARE officer. To get the job, Milton, a police officer for eight and a half years, had to survive two weeks of intense training at the Illinois State Police Academy. It was also a little hard to adjust to life in the classroom, at least at first.

"The kids were real standoffish and didn't know what to expect," Milton said. "I guess I was pretty much the same way."

But Milton has quickly become a friendly figure to the children. So much so that Milton regularly receives gifts from the children.

One example is a handkerchief, carefully decorated in yellow and black by Chris Harper, a sixth-grader at Wilson School. "Drive drunk and the best parking spots could be yours," the motto says, a handicapped emblem underneath.

Milton proudly shares the gift with John Boyer's class at Prather School and encourages the children to create their own items.

Milton selects a child to watch over the "DARE bear" for the day, a small stuffed teddy bear wearing a DARE T-shirt.

"I always try to pick a kid who may not be too interested or active in the class as a kind of motivation," Milton said. He chooses the day's guardian, a boy, who proudly displays the bear on a corner of his desk.

The bear provided for, it's on to the day's lesson. Papers and books are shuffled as some of the children search for their binders. The lesson deals with advertising and its influences.

But before the lesson starts, Milton reviews the previous week's lesson on stress and stressors.

The lesson, as some children recall, taught that there were several activities they could do to relieve stress without using alcohol or drugs. Exercise, bike riding, relaxing, deep breathing and watching television (taking your mind off things) were among the activities named.

"There are all kinds of things you can do to avoid the use of drugs," Milton tells the class.

By relating a personal experience, Milton also warns the children about the stress of peer pressure to try drugs.

Milton tells how, as a high school athlete at a time when drugs were more easily accessible, he frequently turned down his friends.

"You remember how we talked about your rights?" Milton asks the class and several heads nod. "Well, you have a right to say no to anyone who offers you drugs or alcohol. It's up to them then to honor your right to say

"Anyone who doesn't honor that right is not your friend."

By sharing his own experiences, Milton not only shares a part of himself but shows the children that it really is OK to say no.

Milton begins talking about advertising and the role it plays in getting people to smoke cigarettes, drink beer, or buy other products.

Showing an ad featuring Spuds McKenzie, the true example of a "dog's life," Milton is able to get his point across.

Displaying a picture of Spuds, surrounded by girls in a tropical climate, Milton asks, "Is this real?"

He later tells the class that, no, the scene is not real. If it were, Milton says, "I'd like to come back as a dog in my second life."

Man injured during home struggle with burglar

A man who confronted a burglar in his home was injured during a struggle with the intruder at 8:50 p.m. May 1.

James A. Bernaix of the 2100 block of Manley Avenue arrived home and saw a man standing in the kitchen with a cassette recorder and a pillowcase in his hands. Bernaix, 37, grabbed the man and a struggle began, with the intruder pulling away and running out the rear door.

During the struggle, Bernaix received a cut on the forehead. He was taken by a family member to the emergency room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Officers searched the area, assisted by a Madison County sheriff's deputy and his K-9 dog. The intruder was not located.

The suspect was about 20 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighing 185 pounds. He was wearing a tan shirt, blue jeans and a baseball cap.

Entry to the home was gained by kicking in the back door, police determined.

An investigation is continuing and an inventory of property is being taken at the home to determine what items may be missing.

Lewis and Clark Society dinner set

The location of Friday's fiddlers' dinner of the Lewis and Clark Society has been changed to the new Cahokia Mounds Museum, located at 7850 Collinsville Road close to Monks' Mound.

The music will begin at 6 p.m.

State Sen. Sam Vadala will be the host and food prepared by Charlie Hester will be served at 7 p.m.

Speakers for the evening will be Tom Gilbert of Omaha, Neb., coordinator of the Lewis and Clark National Trail for the National Park Service, and Winifred George, president of the St. Louis Chapter of the Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation.

They will provide history lessons about the expedition, and explain the prospects for an interpretive center at the Illinois

Lewis and Clark Historic Site near Mitchell.

Emcee for the dinner will be Jeanne Simon of Washington, D.C., author, lawyer, former legislator, and wife of U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, d-Makanda, Ill.

"The fiddlers' music will be similar to the kind that exhilarated the weary travelers of the expedition and enthralled many tribes along the way," a spokesman said. The guests at the dinner will be serenaded for two hours by the Buchannon Fiddlers, a group of four.

Reservations are by contribution of $70 each, of which $50 is deductible. Tables of eight can be reserved for $500. Names of those who contribute $1,000 will appear in bronze at the interpretive center.

"The story of the Lewis and Clark expedition is our national epic of exploration," the spokesman said.

Cancer 'jail and bail' planned

GRANITE CITY — The Illinois American Cancer Society (IACS) will intensify its fight against cancer in the Quad City area on May 19 when the IACS will be headquartered in a jail cell at the Crossroads Central Hardware.

People will be arrested and jailed in the Central Hardware cell at random or by specific request by completing a "Summons of Arrest," said Becky Slate, publicity chairman.

The process begins with an off-duty policeman bringing a handcuffed prisoner to the jail site. The prisoner is brought before a judge, charged with a "crime" and given a trial. After sentencing, the prisoner is given a striped black and white "convict" uniform to put on and is escorted to the jail area.

Once inside the jail, the prisoner may call friends and relatives for pledges to make bail. When the prisoner has made bail (usually at least $300) or reached the time limit of the sentence, the prisoner is eligible for release and returned to the location he or she prefers.

There are two types of arrest:

surprise arrest and pre-arrest. For a surprise arrest, for $25 anyone can call the "Jail and Bail" unit office to have one's boss, wife, husband or anyone else arrested during the event.

For pre-arrest, people may be recruited in advance by an IACS board member asking for permission to arrest them. They obtain most of their pledges in advance of the event.

The proceeds will be used for education and research to fight cancer.

Those who want more information may call 798-3005.

Armed Forces Day celebrated here

GRANITE CITY — "Keeping America strong" is the theme of the 1989 St. Louis Joint Armed Forces Day celebration Saturday, May 13, at the Charles Melvin Price Support Center in Granite City.

The event, which will be open to the public from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., promises a variety of current and past military equipment and weapons displays.

From the Army's newest helicopters to World War II and Civil War battle re-enactments.

Other activities will include a working dog demonstration, parachute team jumps and exhibits of tanks, boats, heavy engineering equipment, explosive ordnance and more. All military services will participate in this celebration.

Armed Forces Day is jointly sponsored by the St. Louis Area Support Center, the U.S. Aviation Systems Command and the U.S. Army Troop Support Command.

Holocaust atrocities remembered

GRANITE CITY — In memory of the victims of the Nazi holocaust, Mayor Von Dee Cruse has declared April 30-May 7 as "Days of Remembrance."

The proclamation says that "the people of Granite City should remember the atrocities committed by the Nazis so that such horrors are never repeated."

More than six million Jews perished from 1933 to 1945 in the Nazi holocaust by Adolf Hitler.

Millions of others also perished under the Nazi regime.

The proclamation's purpose is much like that of Congress' establishment of May 2 as a "Day of the Remembrance of the Holocaust."

Law enforcement dinner features Bob Hardy

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Bob Hardy, co-anchor of KMOX Radio's morning news program, will be guest speaker at the third annual Law Enforcement Appreciation Dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday, May 15.

The event was "sold out" three weeks ago, said Walter Milton, chairman of the Crime Prevention and Awareness Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the dinner.

Among the law enforcement guests will be representatives of police departments in Granite City, Madison, Pontoon Beach and Venice, and members of the Madison County Sheriff's Department, Illinois State Police and Division of Criminal Investigation.

Madison County Probation and Court Services, U.S. Army Charles Melvin Price Support Center and the Illinois Attorney General and Secretary of State offices.

More than 500 will attend the annual tribute to police officers. The occasion will be part of National Law Enforcement Recognition Week.

Businesses and individuals attending the dinner also sponsor police officers and their spouses as guests, with the patrons and guests seated together for the evening.

"Purpose of the dinner is to say thank you for the often thankless job of protecting the life and property of residents and businesses," Milton said.

The event also promotes better understanding and improved relations between law enforcement officers and those they protect and serve, he said.

Charlie Hester of Charlie's First Season Restaurant will cater the dinner, which will be served at St. Gregory's Community Center, 10 Colonial Drive.

Dinner music will be provided by the Note-Ables. A hospitality hour with a cash bar will start the evening at 5:30.

Since joining KMOX in 1960, Hardy has written and produced more than two dozen major documentaries, including in-depth studies of teen-age addiction, lead poisoning of children, voting apathy, military preparedness and the modern Soviet society, the latter based on his trip to the Soviet Union.

Hardy, who serves as director of special events for KMOX, hosts an afternoon segment of At Your Service featuring interviews with guest experts and questions from listeners by phone.

He has covered Republican and Democratic national conventions since 1964, emphasizing in his reports activities of the Illinois and Missouri delegations.

Hardy serves as master of ceremonies for the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association during its Town Hall meetings, which Washington's top leaders address. He then fields questions from members.

Presidents, vice presidents and cabinet members have been among the guests at Town Hall meetings.

Hardy and his wife, Re, reside in Madison County. He has been active in the Shriners since 1963 and was elected 66th potter of Ainal Temple during 1976.

DANCING: Granite City Attorney Randall Robertson and his wife, Betty, danced recently during the Viennese Ball in the University Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The ball, a semi-formal affair sponsored by the Friends of Music to raise scholarship funds for the department of music, featured musical variety and a buffet dinner.

Venice sets registration

Kindergarten registration for the 1989-90 school will be held at the Venice Elementary School during the week of May 15-19. Principal Seth Kirkpatrick has announced.

Registration will be taken daily from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from noon to 2:45 p.m. To be eligible for kindergarten, children must be 5 years of age by Sept. 1.

At the time of registration, the parent or legal guardian must present the child's birth certificate and immunization records. Hospital records will not be accepted.

Physical and dental examinations are also required before the start of the school year. No child will be permitted to begin school without them. During registration, parents will be given proper forms for these examinations so that appointments can be arranged.

For information call 877-5986.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED Attorney At Law

Sometimes people fall behind on their mortgage payments and their car payments due to financial difficulties. Frequently individuals in this situation consider filing a Chapter 7 straight bankruptcy or a Chapter 13 wage earner plan. The question often arises as to which of these alternatives would be most desirable for people in these circumstances. The answer to this question frequently depends upon whether the debtors wish to keep their house and car and whether they can bring the back payments current immediately.

Let's assume that a man and wife are three months behind on their mortgage payments and two months delinquent on their car loan. The bank is threatening to foreclose on the house and the credit union is ready to repossess the car. The husband is drawing unemployment, and the wife is making approximately $200 per week. The couple has two children, and the prospects of the man obtaining work in the near future are not good.

Is bankruptcy a viable alternative for these people, and if so, would a Chapter 7 or a Chapter 13 better serve their needs? Either a straight bankruptcy or a wage earner plan would stop the creditors from harassing these people. In addition, either alternative would initially stop all attempts to foreclose on the mortgage and also preclude the creditor from repossessing the car. Therefore, bankruptcy could provide welcome debt relief for this beleaguered couple.

If the couple filed a Chapter 7 straight bankruptcy, they would probably have to come up with the back payments immediately. If the house and car if they were willing to abandon the house and car, they could surrender these assets and wipe out the total amount of the car note and mortgage.

If the couple wished to keep the house and car, a Chapter 13 wage earner plan would allow them to pay the back payments over a three to five year period of time. This alternative would avoid the necessity of coming up with all of the back payments immediately in order to keep these assets.

It is important to note that often a debtor who files bankruptcy will be unable to obtain credit for a period of time. Therefore, the individual may want to consider keeping his house and car since he might not be able to obtain financing to buy another home or automobile.

NOTICE TO THE PARENTS AND PERSONNEL OF MADISON COMMUNITY UNIT SCHOOL DISTRICT #12

As required by the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act of October, 1986. The Madison School District has undergone a comprehensive asbestos inspection of all buildings. As a result of the comprehensive inspection a management plan has been written and is in place in the District.

The inspection and management plan were done by the Larron Laboratories of Cape Girardeau, Missouri. The management plan is available in the administrative offices of Madison School District, and in the office of each school, during normal business hours, without cost or restriction, for members of the public. The District may charge a reasonable cost to make copies of management plans.

The person in the Madison School District trained to oversee asbestos activities and ensure compliance is the Superintendent Daniel Kostencki. As required in the rule, Mr. Kostencki is the single contract for the public to obtain information about asbestos-related activities in the District. You may reach Mr. Kostencki at 1707 Fourth Street, Madison, Illinois, or 877-1712. Thank you for your cooperation and understanding.

John 4:24 "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

God is a Spirit. Our knowledge of God is in many ways limited. His ways are far above our ways and are past finding out. Many things we do not understand and cannot explain. However, we have one of the necessary keys to understanding God when we realize that He is a Spirit.

We do not see Spirits, nor do we touch them. The natural man does not comprehend spiritual things. If we are to worship God, then we must do so in Spirit and in truth.

We must be BORN AGAIN in Christ. There must be a new birth. We must become new creatures in Christ, born of the Spirit Now, we can worship in Spirit and in truth.

We can, today.

Champion Paul Tinnion plays for love, not money

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

NAMEOKEI —Country music has never been bigger. Unfortunately, many of its richest and most famous practitioners have had bouts with booze and pills and violence. Some have taken extended vacations at various state-run institutions.

Although well-known in bluegrass circles, hometown Paul Tinnion, who lives on Rhodes Street, is not rich and famous.

Nor is the 56-year-old fiddler the sort of wastrel described above. He limits his musical performances to family-oriented bluegrass festivals and church services.

In fact, he reckons maybe his lifelong aversion to honkytonks and booze has kept him from finding musical fame and fortune.

"I never did play in taverns or honkytonks," Tinnion says. "I probably could have made a lot of money, but I always detested drinking. I never saw it do anybody any good."

Indeed, he saw drinking do a lot of harm at a young age.

"My Dad drank so bad when I was growing up, he turned me against it. I told my Mom, 'I may grow up to be a horse thief or a gambler, but I'll be a sober one.'"

So Tinnion has always made his living outside of music. He worked for many years at a bottling company and a trucking company. He is now the handyman at the Montessori School in Granite City.

But his fame is considerable in bluegrass music circles, where he is known as "Doc" Tinnion. He has won 26 trophies for his fiddling, including in 1985 the title of Missouri State Fiddle Champion.

Two years ago Nashville-based Jimmy Martin, considered by many to be the king of bluegrass, offered Tinnion $650 a week to join his band. But it would have meant leaving home for months at a time.

"I waited all my life for a chance to make big-time money," Tinnion said. But at 56, he said, "I don't know if I could take that road all the time."

Tinnion told Martin, "I'm very flattered, but I think I'll just be flattered and let it go at that."

It wasn't the first time fame and fortune had come calling for Tinnion, only to be rebuffed. While he was in his late teens, officials at the Coca-Cola bottling plant in Sikeston, Mo., where he worked, got Tinnion a shot on the Grand Old Opry show.

When they told him he was to go to Nashville, Tinnion responded, "Who said so?"

He sighed a bit and fingered his mustache. "I was young. You know how young folks are — they don't have a lot of marbles. I was just young and contrary."

You don't get the sense, however, that Tinnion feels any great regret over his lost opportunities. He seems content with himself. A short massive man who looks more like a blacksmith than a musician, he demonstrates a self-mocking sense of humor in explaining his considerable girth.

"I never was lucky enough to gamble. I can't handle drinking and I never could run fast enough to chase women. So I eat. Anything that sits still, I'll eat it," he says, patting his belly.

Paul "Doc" Tinnion was born in Clay County, Arkansas, and moved to the Missouri Bootheel at age 3. He grew up on a farm there, picking cotton. His voice retains a twangy Bootheel drawl.

The youngest of five children, all of whom played some instrument, Tinnion learned to play fiddle and guitar at age 6 by watching his brothers play and borrowing their instruments while they worked in the fields. His father also played.

"I can't read music," he said. The notes of printed music "look like birds on a high line to me."

One of his sons, Cecil, plays in his bluegrass band, Clearwater Grass. The other members are Terry Hamm, Grant Tolliver and Timmy Gray.

He also plays occasionally with Don Brown and the Ozark Mountain Trio, based in Moscow Mills, Mo.

A religious man (there's a well-thumbed Bible on the TV in his little one-story bungalow on Rhodes Street), for many years Tinnion had his own gospel group. He still plays for Sunday morning services at the bluegrass festivals he travels to with his wife, Peggy.

He has never recorded an album but says he's "been thinking about it." The problem is, all the band members have other jobs and work often conflicts. For instance, he recently lost a longtime banjo player because of work.

"Every time that happens you have to learn them all your tunes again," Tinnion said.

As for his musical style, Tinnion described it as a cross between "what used to be called country" and "hard-core bluegrass." He explained that what passes for country music now is more rock than country.

He said traditional bluegrass, on the other hand, played mostly without vocals and at maximum speed, tends to all sound the same.

"I take country songs, slow 'em down and sing three-part harmony. It's bluegrass, but it isn't, too."

He said other hands are starting to play in that style, also, because "they find out it goes over good."

"Doc" Tinnion got his nickname from a comedy routine he has used for years — ever since he had a radio show on a Charleston, Mo., station. He pretends to sell "Dr. Gawlbang's Doodlem Oil — guaranteed to clean your teeth, curl your hair, make you feel like a millionaire."

The routine itself was inspired by a radio show he listened to when he was growing up in the late '40s, "Don and Earl, the Sunshine Gospel Singers," which in turn came on right before radio preacher J. Charles Jessup. In touting various products, Earl would tell listeners to send in a boxtop, "and Don will send you instructions how to whistle 'The Old Rugged Cross.'"

Tinnion completes his own lengthy rapid-fire spiel with, "Shake the patient well before swallowing and if you're not absolutely satisfied, friends, you send the bottle back and keep the cap — that's yours just for ordering — and we'll send you another bottle just exactly like it!"

"You don't pay us anything! Just give the postman $2.98!"

Tinnion didn't start competing at bluegrass festivals until 1982, and he has pretty much stopped entering the competitive categories.

"I let the young people do that. I like to jam and when you're in the contest they want you around and you can't jam like you want."

Tinnion puts himself down for his lack of formal education and his way of talking. "I'm just like Jethro Bodine (of 'Beverly Hillsbillies'). I graduated the sixth grade!"

But when he speaks of his love for music, it borders on poetry:

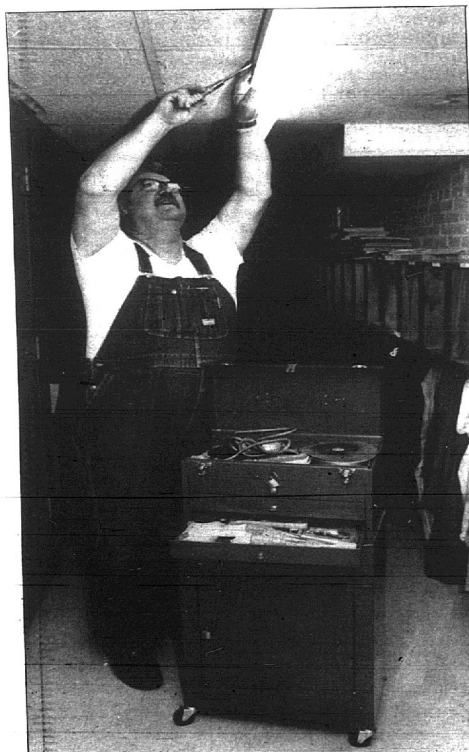

"Music is an expression of the soul. You put your feelings into it, so no two people play exactly alike, even though you pick up licks from other people. A guy expresses his inner feelings through his music."

"Don't think I'm a kook, but I've got in the bedroom and worked out a lot of problems with my fiddle. It's solace. My fiddle is a companion to me."

Paul "Doc" Tinnion and Clearwater Grass can be heard June 2-3 at a bluegrass festival at Bear Oaks Campground near Alhambra. They will also perform at a fundraiser for the Montessori School Sept. 23 at the Granite City Township Hall.

"Doc Tinnion"

Communion breakfast at St. Elizabeth

The Ladies Sodality of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church held its monthly meeting in the school cafeteria, with President Mary Lou Lyeria presiding. Twenty-eight members and five guests attended.

Guests introduced included: Jane Jackstadt, Vicki Baber, Patti Jackson, Teresa Rippey and Margie Greendonner.

The meeting opened with a prayer led by Marsha Chomko. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Mary Evalyne Yenko, and the financial report was given by Treasurer Grace Parker. Chairmen reported on events held during the past month and the president announced progress on philanthropic projects.

Events announced included: the Church Women United's May Fellowship Salad Luncheon to be held May 5 at Central Christian Church; the Ladies Communion breakfast to be held following the 8 a.m. Mass on May 7, in which members of the Sodality will participate by serving as eucharistic ministers, ushers and candle lighters; the Church Women United's Blood Drive to be held May 20 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the school cafeteria; the Ladies Appreciation Dinner to be held June 3 and to feature a steak dinner, entertainment and dancing.

The "Quit of the Month" winner was Penny Hubbard, Pot of Gold winner, Chomko, and Greendonner, the Madonna. Class attendance was won by the two, third-grade classes and attendance prize was awarded to Ann Czornog.

Mothers of third-grade students served the evening's refreshments. Mothers of fourth-grade students will be the hostesses for the next meeting on May 23.

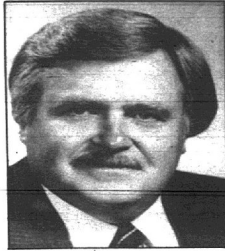

The program for the evening consisted of a floral demonstration by Brad and Carol from Brad's Flowers and Gifts. Members participated by making individual floral arrangements.

Noted evangelist to conduct crusade

The Rev. Paul Olson, an internationally known evangelist from Minneapolis, will open a four-day crusade at First Assembly of God, 24th Street and Madison Avenue, at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. Services will continue daily at 7 p.m. and will close on Wednesday, May 10.

Olson is known for delivering provocative sermons. He comments freely on the issues of the day, including equal rights, the permissive society, abortion, homosexuality, the Moral Majority and the social revolution, a spokesman said.

In the interest of missionary evangelism, Olson has traveled throughout the world. He will discuss what he considers to be the Christian's realistic attitude toward 20th century Communism.

Olson is an author of a book on the Jonestown massacre. He has spent time in Guyana, South America, as a missionary. In his book, "The Bible Said It Would Happen," Olson offers insight into the bizarre tragedy of the Rev. Jim Jones and his followers.

Olson is an international radio speaker and is heard by an audience of 2 million daily in 40 countries.

Olson's local lectures will be interdenominational in flavor. All people, regardless of faith or church affiliation, are invited to participate.

Singer planned at Grace Baptist

Lois Jane, gospel recording and performing artist, will appear in a series of concerts during a revival effort at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St. The revival will begin on Sunday morning, May 7, and continue each night at 7 p.m. through Wednesday, May 10.

Jane has appeared with such country music stars as Merle Haggard, Mel Tillis and Dolly Parton.

Jane, born in Pine Knott, Ky., started singing in her church at 3. At 16, she was billed as a "teen-age star" singing gospel music and began appearing on television.

Dr. Bob Jones is pastor of Grace Baptist Church.

Trinity Tabernacle hosting program

Trinity Tabernacle, 2001 Sixth St., Madison, will host a special program 7 p.m. Thursday, May 4.

Dr. Jerry Goff, known as "Mr. Gospel Trumpet" will appear at the church. In 1984 he received the coveted "People's Choice" award as top male vocalist, and he has received numerous other honors during many years of work.

He and his group, "Jerry and the Goffs," have recorded 33 albums. He is also one of the founders of the Gospel Musical Association.

May Fellowship luncheon set

Dorothy Kinney, president of Church Women United, called to order the monthly meeting on April 25 at St. Peter United Church of Christ, 2100 Cleveland Blvd., in preparation for the State Assembly held the following weekend at Our Lady of the Snows.

The Quad City Unit was in charge of hospitality and provided refreshments for the reception given for the state president and for recesses held during the three days of meetings.

A May Fellowship program and luncheon will be held at 10:30 a.m. May 5 at Central Christian Church. The theme will be "To Pray Is to Listen." Tickets, which may be purchased from any church representative, are $2.

A blood drive, to be headed by Helen Todoroff, will be held May 20, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, 2300 Pontoon Road.

Lionesses pop up caramel corn days

Lioness Linda Leleniewski announced that the Pontoon Beach Lioness Club will be out Friday, May 5, and Saturday, May 6, at area businesses to seek contributions and give away bags of caramel corn as part of Illinois Lioness Caramel Corn Day.

As part of the Lioness programs in support of the blind, visually handicapped, deaf and hearing impaired, the club members, augmented by hundreds of friends, relatives and volunteers, will be working in communities across the state.

"While sighted and hearing citizens simply cannot comprehend what it is like to be blind or deaf, they can help, through their support of Caramel Corn Day, to make the lives of the blind and deaf better and richer," said Leleniewski.

Funds obtained through Lioness Caramel Corn Day help support a wide array of vision and hearing programs statewide, including:

- Eye Donor Registry, which supplies corneal transplants for sight-restoring surgery; used hearing aid banks for persons who need and cannot afford new ones; a used eyeglass collection program for needy persons overseas; a mobile glaucoma screening program; Camp Lions for blind and deaf children; and the Lions Low Vision Clinic, which helps children barely able to see to improve their vision.

Leleniewski noted that in the nine years her club has participated in this project, it has purchased a teleprinter, new eyeglasses for both adults and children, and hearing aids. It recently began the use of a TDD (telephone deaf device).

Robert Ferguson and Scott Craig

Robert Ferguson joins DeMolay

Robert J. Ferguson became a member of the James Stuart Chapter of the Order of DeMolay on March 31 at the Salem, Ill., Masonic Temple.

Bobby and Scott Craig of Salem were conferred their initiatory and DeMolay degrees by a team composed of members of the O'Fallon Chapter; E.L. Crane Chapter, Salem; and local DeMolays Willie Ingraham, first preceptor; Chris Yokley, second preceptor; and Mark Hale, third preceptor.

They were accompanied by Chapter Advisor Charles Meyer.

Troop holds Harris School meeting

Brownie Troop 538 of Harris School in Madison held its regular meeting on April 24. The Daisie Troop, also at Harris School, visited during the meeting.

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony and the Brownie "Smile Song."

During the meeting, the troop held Brownie Circus Day. The Scouts had their faces painted, played a penny pitch game, tried their hands at balloon sculptures, learned the art of juggling, played a flying saucer game and received grab bags. Each Scout received a Brownie Circus Day Patch.

Popcorn and cotton candy were served.

Attending were Daisies Ashley Norman, Tiffany Ballew, Shante Brown, Robin Fields and leader Nancy Norman.

Brownies attending were: Kara and Kristin Rupinski, Carrie and Tammy Potts, Amber Sipes, Rebecca Emery, Rebecca Gehling, Andrea Boyer, Jessica Snider, Kara Byrd, Tina Abney, Kim Snell and Ja'Nell Hollis. Others attending were Jeffrey Potts, Travis Snider, Co-leader Cathy Rupinski and leader Anna Potts.

Juanita Jorn of Madison visited relatives in Oklahoma City. She returned by air on April 24.

E.J. Miller of Madison celebrated his 83rd birthday at his home on April 23. He is the former city comptroller and fire chief for Madison.

Attending were: his daughter, Dolores Brunice; grandson, Mark Brunice; his wife, Sheila; son, Benjamin; granddaughter, Teresa; JoAnn Sebecak and daughter, Kathy; Fay Brunice; and Dave and Wilma Carter.

Dinner was served and presents opened.

St. Ann's Altar Society of St. Mary's Church in Madison will host a Quilt and Linen Social on May 7 at Engelbert Hall. Publicity Chairman Lucille Mossa announced that games will start at 1:30 p.m. Door prizes will be awarded, with food and refreshments available. Twenty-five games will be played. The public is invited.

Junior Troop 564 of Harris School in Madison attended the 44th annual Lincoln Pilgrimage in Springfield, Ill., on April 30.

The troop started the day off by visiting Lincoln's Tomb at Oak Ridge Cemetery. Scouts then went to Lincoln's home, the Visitor's Center and viewed the displays. They also walked down four blocks of homes that have been restored from that time period. They stopped in and browsed at a gift shop.

The troop visited the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield, which Lincoln and his family attended. Inside its sanctuary is the original pew rented by the family, plus a display of the writings of Lincoln. The Scouts then went through the Old State House in the middle of Public Square.

The troop stopped at McDonald's Restaurant to have lunch and to tour the museum for Lincoln at the restaurant.

After lunch, the troop returned to Oak Ridge Cemetery for the start of the parade to the State Capital Building.

During the trip, the Scouts earned a Lincoln Pilgrimage Patch and the Lincoln Heritage Patch for visiting all of the sites.

Attending were: Brandy and Sunday Pace; Roberta Sampson; Lillian Brooks; Sue Ann Moran; Christy McClure; Stephanie Smith; Mary Schreiber; Holly Narvaaz; Amanda Deroussell; Carrie, Tammy and Bill Potts; co-leader Debra Lienekie; and leader Anna Potts.

Navy Mothers club to install officers

The Navy Mothers group met at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall for its regular meeting. Commander Mary Ann Rollber was in charge.

Sixteen members responded to roll call. A report was given on members on the sick list. All members were reminded to attend the craft show in Collinsville held April 29 and 30. Navy Mothers were to participate in the craft show.

Navy recruiters and members participated in a rehearsal for the upcoming installation of officers. Installation of officers will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday at the VFW Hall.

Refreshments were served to the group by Nina Motsinger, Norma Darnell and Mary Koresog.

The mystery package was won by Mildred Walker and special bingo by Norma Darnell. Other bingo winners were Edna Miller, Elizabeth Ramsey and Mildred Walker.

Connie Crumbley

Crumbley
Connie J. (Parks) Crumbley, 48, of Granite City died at 6:50 p.m. Wednesday, May 3, at her home. She had been ill for 12 years.

Mrs. Crumbley was born July 13, 1940, in Madison, and she had been a lifetime resident of the area.

She had worked for 11 years at the GCAD (formerly Granite City Army Depot) Credit Unit, where she had been vice president.

She is survived by her husband, Albert Crumbley; two daughters, Mrs. Larry (Katherine) Best of Edwardsville and Sharon Crumbley of Granite City; two sisters, Alma Jean Gilmer of Collinsville and Sharon Kovarik of Granite City; her mother and stepfather, Mable and Harmon Hundley of Granite City; and two grandsons.

Funeral services will be held on Friday at Irwin Chapel for Granite City, 2801 Madison Ave., where visitation will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. today (Thursday). Burial will be in Sunset Hill Memorial Estates near Edwardsville. Memorials may be made to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., for cancer research.

Rusick
Anthony "Tony" Rusick, 74, of Granite City died at 6:50 a.m. Wednesday, May 3, 1989, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He had been hospitalized 10 days and ill since January.

Born Dec. 14, 1914, in Venice, Mr. Rusick was a lifelong area resident. He was a World War II U.S. Marine Corps veteran and was of the Catholic faith.

He worked all his life as a carpenter.

Mr. Rusick at one time was employed by the city of Granite City as a building inspector, retiring from that post in 1967.

Survivors include his wife, the former Violet Hutchins; one son, William Rusick of Granite City; one brother, Alexander "Babe" Rusick of Granite City; and one sister, Helen Perot of St. Louis.

Visitation will be held from 5 to 9 p.m. today at Davis Funeral Home, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, where funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Friday by the Rev. Thomas Wise. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery in Edwardsville.

Dare

Different types of diverting are discussed at great length and Milton drills the children, using pictures to help them distinguish between the types.

As the lesson wraps up, teacher John Boyer, who has sat quietly in the back of the room during the session, stands up and begins to quiz the children on what they've learned.

As Boyer quizzes, Milton walks down each row, putting DARE stickers on the children's foreheads. The class ends with a "Miss Piggy," a cheer named after the famed kareoke and scream of the popular porcine Muppet character.

"HYYYYYAAAAAHHHHH!" the children scream as Milton leaves.

"Everyday I'm learning," Milton said as he tucked his lessons under his arm. Milton won't be during the summer months, probably returning to street duty.

"Teaching these classes has really been an experience," Milton said. "I love it."

Closed

The committee felt that it was more practical to close the entire campus for the one-year trial period to adequately study all factors, a report prepared by the committee said.

Color-coded identification badges, monitors with two-way radios, and special parking decals are among the tools with which administrators hope to make a closed campus work at Granite City High School.

Still in its early stages, the closed campus plan calls for color-coded badges to be issued to students. Colors will be determined for those allowed to leave campus. About 240 students body will be issued badges to participate in cooperative jobs and off-campus training programs.

Those students will also be issued special parking decals and will continue to park in the rear lots. The rest of the student body will park in the front lot facing Nameeki Road, Sikora said.

The school currently has two monitors and the closed campus report says that three more will be needed, two part-time and one full-time.

"What we're saying is that you have to have the manpower to make this work," Superintendent Gib Walsley said at the meeting. Sikora nodded.

"I don't agree with the number of monitors," Koberna said. "Don't cut yourself short. Go with more for six months and then you can reduce staff if you need to."

Monitors are considered a high priority to keep "bad elements" from coming to the campus.

Administrators voiced this concern at previous meetings, worried that once the students cannot leave campus to buy drugs, drug pushers will attempt to infiltrate the campus.

"When you're trying to keep these elements off campus, you can't be out there with no way to notify police," Koberna said.

The purchase of five two-way radios has already been anticipated. Cost for construction of a base station for the monitors should be available by the May 16 meeting, Walsley said.

Also at the May 16 meeting, a report on the effects the campus closing will have on the school cafeteria should be presented.

Walsley and Principal Ken Spalding said that plans to add picnic tables and trash cans to the commons area have been discussed but that costs have not been worked out.

"You have to be remember this is going to be on a trial basis," Sikora said. "We'll be altering, re-evaluating and, hopefully, improving as we go along."

With students being restricted to the campus, problems with smoking are expected. However, no plans have been discussed to reinstitute a smoking area, Sikora said.

The 1988-89 school year is the first year that students have not been allowed to smoke. The privilege was phased out one class at a time starting with the freshman class four years ago.

cal power to the building. At least one other person, a young man, also reported seeing "kids" running down an alley near the building.

About 30 people were at the scene during the early stage of the fire, and most of them were being questioned by the police. Assistant Fire Chief Bob Bell said the department had back-up response from the Madison Fire Department, which sent one pumper and seven men to the scene.

Thirty-six men fought the fire, Bell said, and none were hurt.

"The captain I spoke to said the fire was through the roof when they got there — totally involved," Bell said.

Firefighters worked through the night on the Washington School blaze. Fire virtually destroyed the building. This morning the large brick walls stood leaning and crumbling, and the roof was entirely gone. Fire was believed started in the center of the structure.

Water sprays were being directed by pumps and hoses from three different directions. Owners of the building have been attempting to rezone it for some time. A proposal to rezone the property from residential to warehouse industrial ended in a tie vote of the city's planning commission back in February. The petitioner, J. Craig Coughlin, then withdrew the request. Craig bought the property, contingent upon the rezoning, in August 1988 from owners Walt and Dean Aerne. Neighbors around the school had signed petitions against the rezoning.

Walt and Dean Aerne are father and son. The younger Aerne said his family was still trying to figure out what was going on. "We're just kind of shocked, and trying to get our wits about us this morning," he said. His father had not yet arrived at their place of employment, AMSCO Mechanical in Granite City.

The Aernes have been trying to help Craig Construction get the rezoning. Dean Aerne said there is some question as to the present status of ownership. Craig was the legal owner, but city records showed the Aernes still listed as owners. Dean Aerne could not be reached a second time for further clarification.

for 20 years, so I feel like it is a rough position to be put in and I feel a little funny. But I supported Cruse in the election and I ran his (own) campaign, so I think that was the falling out."

Scrum said he plans no changes in the department and will continue the cleanup of the city.

"The people here are great, you can't ask for a better group of guys," Scrum said. "I just want to resign now what's been started in the last year."

"I don't think everyone in violation needs ticketing. Sometimes a warning will work, but I think people need to be aware that they must comply with the standards set up in the municipal code."

Scrum and his wife, Annette, have four children.

Dewey Melton was appointed to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, replacing Joe Williams, who was not re-appointed. Williams was asked by Cruse to resign more than a year ago but refused at that time.

Melton, a former member of the Granite City School Board, is employed by IBM in St. Louis.

Other appointments made by Cruse on Tuesday were Dennis Ross to the Planning and Zoning Board and Mark Evanson to the Pension Board.

Trivia
In January 1974, the issue of longer hair styles for policemen came to a head in Madison when Police Chief Frank Dutko suspended Patrolman Donald Bridick an investigator Paul Bargiel until they complied with the new short hair grooming regulation. Both complied and returned to work.

Local Fidelity class welcomes Floridians

The Fidelity Class of Nameoki United Methodist Church held its class party at Jerry's Cafeteria on April 8.

After lunch, business reports were given and approved. A welcome was extended to Rod and Irene Key of Texas and to Pete and Sara Belle Berta of Florida. The birthdays of Neil Tally and Mary Bailey were celebrated.

Other members present were Jack Fricker, Mary Long, Tharah Erney, Pauline Canahan, Wilma Tracey and Bess Rucker. The next meeting will be held on May 13.

Mr. and Mrs. George (Glenna) Staggs had as dinner guests: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn (Leola) Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Veda) McClelland, Ruby Pyles, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Thea) Kahn.

The Kahns are former residents who were en route to their home in St. Clair Shores, Mich., from Florida.

Sylvia Massman and her niece, Lori Buchanan, spent the weekend visiting her sister, Ruth, and her husband, Bob MacDonald, in Warrensburg, Mo. They also visited a nephew and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Rickie (Judy) MacDonald and their children Ricki Jr., Christy and Cassie.

Residents of the Colonial Nursing Home were visited by a group of singers from Pontoon Baptist Church last week.

The singers taking part were: Larry and Barbara Rugsby, Gary Chaney, Ralph and Juanita Craycraft, Linda Boswell, Sharon Ryan and daughter, Ruthie Frances Bruke, Harold McBride, Roy Waugh, Jill Chaney and the Rev. Kevin Kerr, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred (Phyllis) Laster, Mr. and Mrs. Steve (Frieda) Bolling and children Steven, Jessica and Rebecca, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Paula) Brokaw and children Brandy and Megan spent the weekend in Memphis, Tenn., visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy (Sandra).

Faulkners name daughter Leanne

Mr. and Mrs. Tim (Tracey) Faulkner of Granite City have announced the birth of a daughter, Leanne Michelle, born April 12 at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

The infant weighed 8 pounds, 5

First child born to Thompsons

Dexter and Terri Thompson of Granite City have announced the birth of their first child, a boy, born at 8:10 p.m. April 16 at St. Mary's Health Center. He was named Jayson Ryan and weighed 6 pounds, 7 ounces. Grandparents are Mike and McCoy. They also enjoyed a housewarming for the Brokaws, who will be making their home in Memphis.

Thirty-five Mission Friends attended Fun Day at the Baptist Center on Saturday.

Six churches were represented. First Baptist Church of Maryville had the largest group, with 11 present.

The highlight of the meeting was "Willie the Robot," portrayed by Bob Lewis of Second Baptist Church. "Willie" greeted the children as they arrived and gave candy treats to everyone.

Kathy Sargent, Emmanuel Church, used puppets for story time. Susan Montgomery, Granite City First, led the children in an egg hunt and relay. Arlene Smith, Second Church, led a prayer for missionaries Cindy Winters, Maryville First, led the group in singing.

The Mission Friends, accompanied by Judie Adams of Grace Church, took a nature walk, returned to the center and assembled two large collages from the nature items collected on their walk.

Netty Lewis is Mission Friends director of Madison County Baptist Association.

Grace Baptist Church will hold a revival on May 7-10. The Rev. David Butler of Louisville, Ky., will preach. Lois Jane Huddleston will lead the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Al (Betty) Blaylock have returned home from San Diego where they attend the basic training graduation of their son, John. Gina Roddy, his fiancée, accompanied them to the graduation and their son returned home with them.

Jeannie Reichwein of Granite City and Dexter R. and Glodene Thompson of Spanish Lake, Mo. Great-grandfathers are Ralph Pikes of Granite City, Ben Eakens of Risco, Mo., and Herschel Thompson of Collinwood, Tenn.

Local girl baptized

Kelly Ann Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wally (Lois) Schmidt, was baptized April 2 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church by the Rev. Don Wolford. Serving as godparents were Rose Moran and Bill Wheeler.

A dinner was held April 9. Gifts were opened and a decorated cake was served.

Those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McQuinney; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schmidt;

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schmidt, and Patrick and Jamie; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Moran; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wheeler and Jason; Christi Walsh; Anita Borger and Christi; and the honoree's brother, Kevin.

Youth writing camp set

The Sixth Annual Summer Writing Day Camp at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been set for June 19-30, July 10-21, and July 24 to Aug. 4.

Enrollment is limited to 50 students, ages 8 through 16, for each of the three sessions. This is the third year that 16-year-old students have been included.

The camps are open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. with several hours of classroom writing development activity, plus recreation periods for tennis, swimming, canoeing, volleyball, gymnastics, bowling and nature exploration on the 2,600-acre campus.

Writing periods have an excellent pupil-teacher ratio with a focus on "development of skills articulating thought in the sentence, the paragraph and the short essay," with individual instruction as needed on such basics as grammar, spelling and punctuation.

Eugene Violette, of the SIUE department of English language and literature, has been director since the summer project's inception. He will be assisted by area elementary and secondary teachers, recreational counselors, and English department lecturers.

The fee for any of the camp sessions is $15, which is non-refundable, and $125 to be paid by June 5. For more information, call the SIUE department of English language and literature at (618) 692-2060 or from St. Louis toll-free (314) 621-5168, Ext. 2060.

ROD FLOOD

Designing a family kitchen? More and more people are making room for two or more - cooks to work together. It means less work and more fun and family interaction.

For an easy-gliding closet rod that doesn't sag, cover a length of half-inch galvanized pipe with 3/4-inch thin-wall PVC. (Lacquer thinner will remove the lettering.)

Short of space? Build in over-the-window shelves to display collectibles and other treasures.

For better results, cut wallboard slightly smaller (about 1/4-inch shorter or narrower) than you need it. Joint compound will fill in the space easily, but oversize pieces are hard to trim.

Crumbled mortar between bricks should be replaced. Use a chisel or old beer can opener to scrape old mortar. Clean out dust and chips, then wet down and remortar. Broomstick handle will smooth the finish.

SIUC students win world law brief-writing contest

Students from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale's School of Law wrote the world's best brief for the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court World Championship recently held in Chicago.

Among the members of the five-man team was Christy Wyrzytek Solverson, a second-year law student, of Granite City.

The win automatically gave the team the tournament's award for best U.S. brief as well. And the team's captain, Mark Metzger of Belleville took home honors as world's fifth-best oralist for his legal argument skills.

The team, however, doesn't know its overall standing in the contest which featured 48 teams from 34 countries.

The oral and written events making up this year's contest focused on a dispute between two countries over diplomatic immunity. In preliminary rounds, SIUC defeated teams from Germany and Hong Kong but lost to teams from the Netherlands and Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn.

Due to computer problems, the team is unsure of their rank.

Recurring Headaches

15,000,000 Americans suffer from recurring headaches. $300 million dollars are spent each year for headache remedies. Remedies that give temporary relief only. Headaches are only a symptom, a way of telling you that something is wrong. Unless the cause is corrected, headaches can lead to dizziness, eye and ear problems, high blood pressure, fainting spells, allergy, nervousness, and insomnia, which then leads to chronic tiredness and finally a nervous breakdown.

The neck and particularly the upper portion of the spine must be considered suspect in every case of recurrent headaches. Pick up the telephone NOW and make an appointment with...

Committees need to improve

"City Hall politics" has not endeared itself to the public in recent years, and much of the criticism has centered on the 14-member City Council and its 15 committees.

Committees can be a time-saver, not a time-waster. And politics itself is not evil; it helps make government work, through compromises to achieve progress without violating principles or abandoning goals.

That is the ideal, but politics has taken on negative overtones here because the municipality has not been functioning well. There are urgent needs that can't be met merely by continuing "politics as usual."

Six examples were cited in our May 3 article, "City's sanitation history mixed."

•Banning boarded-up buildings. A lot of good intentions were voiced during the past year, but a consensus could not be reached on the best method of getting rid of dilapidated houses or forcing owners to repair them.

•City cleanup program. A survey showed hundreds of yards had accumulations of junk. After months of delay, a systematic effort was started to arrest offenders.

•Plastic garbage bags. A plan for curbside trash pickups was discussed but the main committee action on the topic was to agree to study it.

•Pit bulldogs. An ordinance to deal with vicious dogs was enacted but only after a number of public meetings and considerable passage of time.

•Animal control department.

Pets and other animals were allowed by many families to run at large, violating the leash law. Large numbers of animals remained unlicensed. Fees were increased immediately before the start of the new fiscal year, but due to year-long committee indecision and inaction the city is still without an adequate animal control program.

•Leaf burning. Should leaves be burned, or should they be placed in bags to be picked up by garbage trucks? There has been an on-again, off-again policy, despite the city's ban on open burning. The committee has yet to submit a permanent plan of action.

New leadership is a possibility for this committee, but the past confusion and impasses illustrate the potential for any of a number of committees to gum up the effective functioning of local government.

Other important committees' deliberations involve such matters as firefighting, streets, traffic, lighting, law enforcement, ambulance service, finances, zoning, annexation, pollution control, economic development and downtown renewal.

As time passes and problems are allowed to fester, they are joined by additional problems. Unless a city deals with them in a timely fashion, there is simply no way to keep pace with today's challenges or to shape the future in a positive way.

More and more people are scrutinizing governmental performance and looking for results.

Delay and decay are two words that are mighty similar.

Good luck to new police chief

Lt. Don Knight — make that Chief of Police Don Knight — has earned the title given him this week by Mayor Von Dee Cruse. But to fully assume the role of chief, he will continue to have to work hard to overcome the image problems that have hampered the department in the last four years.

An 18-year veteran, Knight becomes the city's fifth police chief since 1985. His predecessors first included Ron Veizer, who didn't make the cut from the Paul Schuler to the Von Dee Cruse administration. Then there was Bill Harris, a Cruse appointee who ran into a series of administrative and personal problems. Then there was Robert Astorian, a good officer who was lured away from internal department problems by the thought of retirement and a much more lucrative county job. Finally there was Capt. Jim Lengyel, who said after one year of trying it that he simply didn't want to be chief anymore.

Lengyel didn't do a good job in the short time he was in office, coming in during a myriad of problems that began mostly under other chiefs, including allegations of cheating on police tests; the firing of one officer for taking a squad car out of the county; and the scandal of another who quit after being accused of peeping into a window. Lengyel built up a morale that earlier had sagged and for that he should be commended.

Now, Chief Don Knight must continue that trend, and from the work he has done in the past, there appears to be no reason he could not. He is known as an aggressive cop, a good detective and one who holds the respect of those in law enforcement.

A community the size of ours needs a police force with long-term, stable leadership. We're confident Knight can provide it.

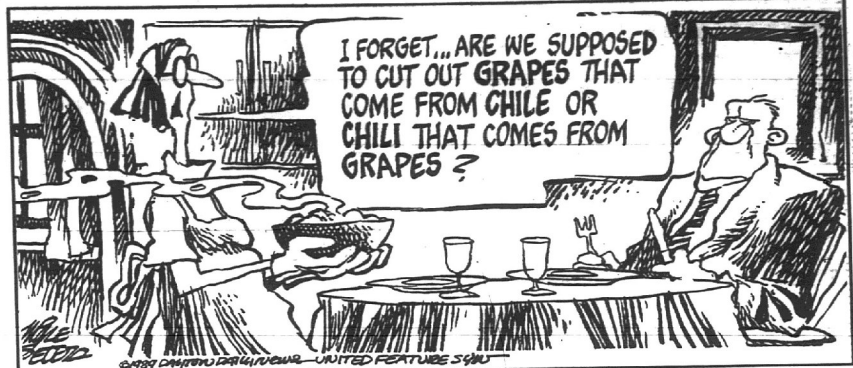

Eagle Park deserves safer area

Eagle Park area residents are right in resenting a weekly influx of drinking, gun-toting people believed to include drug dealers and drug users. The many fine families living in the neighborhood deserve a calmer, safer community during the night as well as in the daytime.

What procedures should be followed to maintain peace, and to bar or punish troublemakers? Limiting of access to Eagle Park was one of the suggestions made at a meeting of 60 concerned residents.

Certainly, the Madison County Sheriff's Department and Illinois State Police are among the agencies that should consider closely monitoring the Eagle Park vicinity for traffic violations, loitering and other law violations. Nearby patrols by the Madison County Police also could be helpful.

Letters

Will fight emission findings

To the editor:

The following letter was sent to Bernard P. Kilham, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

My vehicle was tested at station 18, 1000 E. Chan of Ricks Road, Mitchell. I gained some disturbing impressions as to the employees and their equipment.

On the first test, one area registered 0.60 which was higher than the state standard for high idle. Correct information was given to the inspector on duty but the information keyed into the computer by him was wrong.

The emission machine showed my vehicle had failed the test. I went inside the station and talked with the inspector at the service counter, without checking anything else, he just started marking anything that he felt like marking and writing things on the back of the report, saying, "This is what is wrong with your vehicle."

I informed him it was my opinion that the machine that tested my vehicle was not calibrated properly before the testing, because the vehicle just ahead of mine had failed also.

I had prior knowledge from a Ford dealership. Before each vehicle is tested, the machine has to be calibrated to zero before another vehicle is tested or otherwise the machine will register readings from the previous vehicle.

The inspector turned and walked away from me and went into another room. I left the station, contacted the same dealership, talked with the service department manager and informed him of the results of the test.

He said they have had several complaints about that particular station. He feels that the persons employed there are not properly trained to use the equipment and are not recalibrating the machine on every car that goes through the line.

He added that if a Ford product fails an Idle Emission Test, it is probable that the vehicle has idled too long just prior to the test. Too long at idle will trigger the Thermax Air System to dump Thermax air into the atmosphere to prevent overheating of the exhaust system.

He advised me to have the test done again and see if it would pass without any repair work being done. He said he has had vehicles pass the emission test at his dealership and go right from there to that station and fail the emission test.

On the second test three days later, without any repair work being done on my vehicle, the emission test was passed. I went into the station and talked with the same inspector. I informed him no repairs were made on that vehicle and it passed the second test, and I would like some explanation. I said it proved my earlier theory about the competency of those operating the equipment.

The inspector grabbed the test report from my hand and said, "No repair was made on the vehicle?" He examined the report, threw it back at me and said something is wrong with the vehicle.

I said it proved my point. He said again, with an aggressive attitude, there is something wrong with the vehicle, and walked into another room.

Chapter 15, 13A-107 (4) of the Illinois Vehicle Code covers a dispute concerning inspections; 13A-103 (4) covers training and supervision of inspectors and other personnel, to insure the correct maintenance and calibration of test equipment. Under 13A-108, grievance procedure, I ask the agency to investigate the conduct and competency of its employees at station 18.

The notice sent to me was incorrect. It states that the make of the vehicle is a BMW. It should read Ford.

I ask that the EPA make an appropriate response, correct any further misconceptions of the employees at the emission station, and act to avoid needless vehicle repairs.

I was unable to get any names of the inspectors because they do not wear any type of name tag or identification card.

Extend steel trade agreements

To the editor:

To the members and families of the United Steelworkers of America, I am asking you to write your U.S. senators, your congressman and Hon. Carl Hulse, President Bush's chief trade representative.

Ask them to extend the Voluntary Restraint Agreements (VRAs) for the American steel industry.

The agreements are important to provide Americans with good jobs. When we lose steelworkers' jobs, it affects everyone.

Without the VRAs, foreign governments subsidize an excess steel capacity worldwide and make it a certainty that millions of tons of imported steel will continue to be dumped on the American market.

The steel industry, including my company, National Steel, needs time to modernize and become competitive in the world steel market. Please support a five-year extension of the VRAs.

Addresses are: U.S. Trade Representative, Room 200, 600 17th St., North West, Washington, D.C. 20506, The Hon. Carl Hulse.

U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515, Jerry F. Costello District 21.

U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510, Alan J. Dixon, Paul Simon, John Danforth, Kit Bond.

Parties seem to get bigger

My neighbor threw a party the other night. Actually it wasn't his neighbor, just the guy up the street. Well, really it was the son of the guy up the street. His Dad was just out of town. Since the party is already taking on legendary status among local young folk, I thought I would start the story the same way.

This was, as my wife put it, "the biggest party we never went to."

But we didn't miss it. From the comfort of our dining room chairs we watched the drama unfold up the street, from the time the first half barrel was brought in until the police visited a few hours later. This was entertainment TV couldn't beat.

Judging from the clientele going past my porch that night, somebody must have passed the word through the youth crowd. I'm not saying those attending were under age, mind you, but some of them would have to produce ID's to vote.

I first noticed something was afoot when I looked out the window at 8 p.m. and noticed a normally quiet block transformed into a speedway. Every vehicle was a truck, and every truck had a loud muffler. And all of them turned around in my driveway that night.

It was the social event of the season, and they came in droves, as if drawn by an invisible magnet. And the din grew louder with each passing hour.

I once had a friend who claimed that the parties he threw were so big that the first cop to arrive that night was always greeted with a door prize. The first cop this night had got dirty looks. Then he had to direct traffic. The exit looked like the crush I remembered from my drive-in movie days.

The next morning, the remnants were plainly visible: go-cups as far as the eye could see. But I'll give the young host credit. He and several of his friends were out in the early hours picking up the neighborhood.

Party-goers don't change much from one generation to the next. They just get a little bit louder.

Don't get me wrong; I attended a few bashes in the past. But now, I'm past my prime partying years. I get more of a kick watching from my living room window.

Abortion outcry in Washington?

What do you think of the mass outcry over the abortion issue last week in Washington?

Millie Condis, Granite City
"It's a lot of bull. It's the woman's choice. People are making too much over it. I'd rather it be legalized than in some back street."

Mike Poling, Granite City
"It's a shame there are so many people depriving other people of their rights. There are people with their own beliefs trying to force them on everyone. As long as they're not being hurt, it shouldn't be their concern."

Tawna Fleming, Granite City
"I personally do not believe in abortion, it's murder. But I also feel everyone has the right to make their own decision. They are making too much out of it. They have already put the issue through once."

Maggos sells Pepsi-Cola Alton

GRANITE CITY — Pepsi-Cola Alton Bottling Inc., Alton, recently announced the sale of its operations to the Pepsi-Cola Co., a subsidiary and division of Pepsi-Co. Inc., New York.

Terms were not disclosed.

The Alton franchise includes the local counties of Madison, Jersey, Green, Calhoun and Macoupin.

Walter Milton, vice president covering the Quad City area, said the company employs about 20 people locally.

"This doesn't really affect them," Milton said. "Maybe in the long run they will actually be better off because the sale ensures stability."

Alton Pepsi was founded by Gust Maggos in 1936. His son, Nick Maggos, succeeded him following the elder Maggos' death in 1954. The company accomplished steady growth until, today, it is the unquestioned leader in soft-drink sales in the territory it serves.

"We have always tried to be a honorable employer, fair in business, and an asset to the communities we serve," Nick Maggos said. "In this spirit, we believe that we have chosen a successor owner who will act in the best interests of our customers, employees and the communities which we have served to the best of our abilities for more than 50 years."

Maggos stated that the decision to seek did not come easily. His company is noted for the high percentage of long time, loyal employees. The company's success was a team effort and he felt that the credit for that success should be given to the employees — particularly to those in management.

However, Maggos said that because there were no family members to take the helm after him, he thought it best, while still in good health, to divest the company in order to simplify estate planning for his family's security and insure an orderly transition for his employees.

A.O. Smith reunion planned

GRANITE CITY — Former employees of A.O. Smith's car frame plant here are invited to the Co-Workers 9th Year Reunion on May 13.

The reunion, sponsored by Willing Workers of America, will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Old Alton Road. It will begin with a cash bar at 5 p.m. followed by a buffet dinner at 5:30 and dancing from 7 until 11.

Music will be provided by the Joey James Orchestra. The cost is $15 per person and tickets will be available at the door.

Reservations can be made by sending a check to Robert Lewis, 2026 Bryan Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040. Checks should be made payable to Willing Workers of America.

Willing Workers was formed in 1982 by a group of laid-off workers who desired to form a self-help organization to assist members in obtaining employment.

Since that time, the group has expanded to include individuals who are underemployed and also employed persons willing to help others.

The group offers free recreational programs, food packages, job leads and other services.

It meets at 10 a.m. one Saturday a month at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave.

Each meeting includes a guest speaker who talks about local business developments, social service programs, educational opportunities or other areas of interest.

There are no membership dues or other financial obligations.

Mayor cites small business

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse has proclaimed May 8-14 as Small Business Week in the community.

In issuing his statement, Cruse said there are more than 315,000 small-business establishments that produce the most new jobs in Illinois. "A strong and stable economy is largely dependent on the determination and dedication of small business," he said.

"The largest future growth of small business will be contingent upon the heretofore largely untapped export market place," Cruse said.

Magna announces earnings

William S. Badgley, chairman, has announced first-quarter Magna Group earnings of $4.3 million or 38 cents per share compared to $4.8 million or 44 cents per share for the first quarter of 1988.

Badgley said, "In the first quarter of 1988, Magna sold the servicing rights of Magna Mortgage Co. and realized a net gain on the transaction of $1.2 million or 11 cents per share. When comparing results from continuing operations, our earnings for the first quarter of 1989 reflect an increase over the first quarter of 1988."

On March 31, 1989, Magna consummated the merger of New Holland Farmers Bank, New Holland, Ill. The acquisition was accounted for as a pooling-of-interests; however, prior period financial reports are not restated due to the immateriality of this acquisition.

Total assets as of March 31 were $2.09 billion, a 7.9 percent increase from $1.94 billion a year earlier. Total deposits increased 7.2 percent to $1.84 billion from $1.71 billion a year earlier.

Loans net of unearned income were $1.32 billion, up 11.9 percent from $1.18 billion at March 31, 1988. Stockholders' equity rose 9.5 percent to $156 million from $143 million a year earlier. The allowance for loan losses is 1.08 percent of loans outstanding compared to 1.07 percent at Dec. 31, 1988.

Charlie's Restaurant has little effect on business elsewhere

By Andy Stierling
Staff writer

The closing of Charlie's Restaurant in March has had little impact on the business of other restaurants, banquet facilities and catering companies in the Quad City area.

But perhaps that's because Charlie Hester, the founder who left Charlie's last July, has built a growing business at the First Season, formerly Tony's, which he took over a little over two weeks ago. The restaurant is at 5240 Nameoki Road, near I-270.

"At times we have crowds," Hester said, adding that his catering and banquet business is "picking up."

Charlie's, Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road, prospered from the 1960s till the late-80s. It was a favorite of politicians and professional people such as teachers; many liked to gather there for happy hour on Fridays.

Jerry's Cafeteria, 1920 Edison Ave., isn't as upscale an operation as Charlie's was, but bookkeeper Dick Roderick had an interesting observation to make.

"I'd say the man who has really reaped the rewards is Buck (Haskell) Pyatt) at The Den. He's getting a lot of Charlie's booze business."

Roderick added that on Sunday evenings business seems to have picked up. Jerry's serves an upgraded menu on weekends.

At The Den, 2401 State St., co-owner Jan Pyatt was asked if business had increased. "Not really," he's (Charlie Hester) reopened." But she added that The Den's business had increased some during the last days of Charlie's Restaurant, when its popularity had begun to slip (Hester was no longer associated with it when that happened).

At Petri's, 1416 20th St., Lawrence Petri said his business was the same as always — hectic. Petri does a lot of catering — most of it out of town.

"I've always had more catering than I could handle," he said. "As far as I can see, I haven't gotten any more business out of it."

At Ravnelli's in the American Village Shopping Center, General Manager Tony Broyles noted that he hadn't noticed any difference, and then took the question as an opportunity to boast a bit: "I think we had all the business from the beginning."

At Ralph & Charlie's, 1431 Fourth St. in Madison, owner Dave Thebeau said business had picked up "about 10 percent. We're seeing a few new faces."

Thebeau said the closing of Charlie's was what caused him to start opening for lunch, which he had never done previously. Ralph and Charlie's stays open into the early morning.

"I'm not getting any sleep now," Thebeau said.

Dennis Cooper of Bethalto, who owns the building, said Tuesday that Charlie's was in the process of being sold to a company. He had a meeting with the prospective buyer on Wednesday but could not be reached for comment as this story went to press.

Sources said the sale price was around $800,000.

The QuickTrip convenience store chain was said by sources to be interested in the property.

All you ever want to know about Kickapoo, Kankakee, Kaskaskia

We are indebted to the Illinois Department of Conservation and its Outdoor Highlights magazine for research showing the immense impact American Indians had on this state and its geographic names, including Illinois itself.

Illinois, from ini, illini or illiniwek, means "Man," the name used by the Illinois Indians to describe themselves.

CAHOKIA HAS GAINED much attention as an Indian name because of the Cahokia tribe's mounds. The mounds were constructed centuries ago at what is now 7850 Collinsville Road in this area.

The historic site is on the United Nations' World Heritage List of properties having international cultural and historic significance.

The precise meaning of the Cahokia name is unknown to scholars, but much is known

Regional Roundup

By Bill Winter

about the tribe that created more than 100 platform and burial mounds.

Members of the Mississippian culture, the Cahokians developed a town of 20,000 to 40,000 population and occupied it from about 700 A.D. to 1450 A.D.

WHEN THE FIRST Europeans came into the region now known as Illinois, they encountered not only the Illinois and Cahokia people but also the Kickapoo, Peoria, Shawnee and Kaskaskia tribes.

These shared an Algonquian

language and were loosely bound into the Illinois Confederation.

Algonquian Indians later became known as the Ottawa, according to research by John B. Tenney Jr.

To the north, in the area bordering Wisconsin, explorers encountered the Sauk and Fox people; to the east, along the border with Indiana, were Miami, Utichee and Potawatomi.

KICKAPOO INDIANS got their name from a word that means "moves about." Originally they occupied much of Wisconsin.

The Peoria were "carriers" or "people who carry packs." Guess where they settled.

The Kaskaskia Indians provided the name when the French in 1683 were considering establishing a town. Kaskaskia is now the oldest settlement in the Mississippi Valley.

In 1799 a member of the Kaskaskia tribe murdered Chief Pontiac of the Ottawas, incurring the wrath of several Great Lakes tribes. The ensuing wars nearly annihilated the Kaskaskia Indians.

CAYUGA NOT ONLY designated the name of a tribe of the Six Nation League of the Iroquois but also is the name of a West Granite City street situated in the vicinity of Nevada Avenue and Denver Street.

Chicago, would you believe, means "garlic field" or "place of the bad smell."

Kankakee means, depending on which authority you believe, either "swampy land" or "wolf place."

Kewanee means "prairie chicken."

COUCH POTATOES didn't exist in the olden times because television had not yet been invented, but the Macoupin Indians' name means "potato."

Not the Irish potato, which was never cultivated in North America by Indians; the word refers to the duck-potato, also known as the groundnut or Jerusalem artichoke.

We mustn't forget the Dakota, the name of the computer on which this column is being written. The word refers to the seven council fires of the original seven bands of Sioux tribes. Specifically, Dakota means "friend," "ally," "united" or "bound together."

MISSISSIPPI, an Indian name, refers mainly to the mighty Midwestern river that flows past this community. Some of the Indians in its area were known as Mississippians.

Misi means "big." Sipi means "river." This language business is simple, isn't it?

Because of the prevalence of Indian trade from and to the north, the Algonquian name of Mississippi came into widespread use, eventually displacing various river names that had been used by smaller tribes.

There are no Indian names for Granite City, so we'll have to settle for Shokokon, which means "flint hill" or "rock hill."

Illinois House bills introduced

State Rep. Ron Stephens, R-Troy, said bills were recently introduced before the Illinois House.

They include:

School Freedom of Speech (HB 1068) Requires Chicago and downstate school boards to provide freedom of press and speech in official school publications, unless such student expression is obscene, libelous or slanderous, or disrupts the orderly operation of the school.

Workers' Comp Lump Sum Payment (HB 961) Provides that the spouse of an individual whose work-related accidental injury resulted in death shall, upon remarriage, be paid a lump sum equal to two years' compensation benefits. All further rights to benefits would then stop.

Workers' Comp Judicial Review (HB 969) Provides that a person performing part-time domestic or nursing services in a private home for an individual 65 years or older shall be deemed an independent contractor and that such services don't constitute employment.

Child Care Tax Credit (HB 1028) Provides an income tax credit for employers who provide child care for their employees' dependents.

Public Aid COLAS (HB 926) Requires the Department of Public Aid to provide cost of living increases in AFDC and other types of financial aid grants effective Oct. 1, 1989. Such increases would be based on increases in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) from the time of the last grant increase to July 1, 1989.

Public Aid Pilot Program (HB 975) Requires the Department of Public Aid to seek federal authorization to develop and implement a pilot program to assist AFDC recipients in establishing financial independence through self-employment.

Public Aid to Homeless (HB 1037) Provides that no eligible person shall be denied financial aid, or social services, solely because he or she doesn't have a mailing address.

AIDS Paramedics (HB 961) Amends the AIDS Confidentiality Act to specify that EMT-P paramedics are included in the list of health care personnel who can request that patients be given HIV tests without their consent.

Recycled Product Preference (HB 977) Requires preference in awarding public contracts be given to bidders who use products made of recycled materials, even if these products cost up to 10 percent more than products made of non-recyclable materials.

Food Packaging Ban (HB 959) Bans certain food and beverage packaging made with polystyrene or polyvinyl chloride beginning July 1, 1990. Violations would be punishable by fines of up to $500.

Home Ownership (HB 1090) Establishes a program to provide first-time home buyers the opportunity to make monthly installment payments so as to provide them with an adequate down payment for a home.

VENICE — Following a sparsely attended public hearing on the matter, the City Council passed a resolution last Tuesday assessing the McKinley Bridge $50,000 a year to compensate the city for street, police and fire services.

The hearing was held to hear objections to the plan to take money from the bridge's revenues after the consulting engineers for the bridge had objected to Ordinance 89-3, passed on

Jan. 31, which added a line item to the budget withholding the $50,000.

The total budget for the bridge, which handles about 5 million vehicles yearly, is $1,509,396.

No objectors showed up in person, but a letter was read from James H. Friar, assistant vice president of Rickel & Associates Investment Bankers of Milburn, N.J.

The company represents persons holding more than $6 million worth of the $23 million in bonds issued when the city purchased the bridge in 1958.

The letter claimed that the payments to the city would take away funds needed to properly maintain the bridge.

It cited "deferred maintenance" listed on the 1988 annual inspection by the consulting engineers, Hardisty & Hanover of New York City.

Only three aldermen were present for most of the meeting, which lasted 30 minutes. They were Silver Franklin, Phillip White and Victor Valentine.

With two minutes left, Alderman Charles Haynes showed up just as Mayor Tyrone Echeles was saying, "It's my contention that the $50,000 in question would hardly harm the maintenance to the bridge."

The city also pays about $1.2 million yearly in principal and interest on the bonds, said Bridge Manager Tom Fields.

City Attorney Casper Nicholson said his interpretation of the bonding ordinance (No. 286) gave the city the right to withhold the $50,000 without getting the approval of all the individual bondholders.

Most hospice services covered by Medicare

By Bill Hunot
Social Security Administration

Q. My father is terminally ill. Instead of keeping him in the hospital my doctor suggested a hospice program. What is a hospice and does Medicare help pay for hospice care?

A. Hospice is a home-care program for terminally ill people. It primarily involves providing pain relief, symptom management and supportive services for the patient and the patient's family.

Hospice services are covered in full by Medicare except for a small co-insurance payment for outpatient drugs and inpatient respite care.

Respite care is a short-term inpatient stay designed to give temporary relief to the person who regularly assists with home care.

Medicare also pays for nursing and doctors' services, therapy, home health aides, social services, medical supplies and counseling provided by Medicare-certified hospice programs.

Q. My doctor says I need surgery. I would like to get an opinion from another doctor. Will Medicare pay for the second doctor's bill?

A. Because even minor surgery involves some risk, Medicare recommends that you get a second opinion when your doctor suggests surgery.

Medicare will help pay for a second opinion in the same way it helps pay for other services by doctors. That is, Medicare will pay 80 percent of the Medicare-approved cost after your $75 annual deductible is met.

Your own doctor is the best source for referral to another doctor. But, you can call Medicare's Second Opinion Referral Center for the names and phone numbers of doctors who provide second opinions. The number is 800-638-6833.

Q. I have heard that Social Security is raising the age for benefits. I was born in 1940; will this change affect me?

A. Age 65 is the age for full retirement benefits.

People born in 1938 will wait until age 65 plus two months for full benefits. People born in 1939 will wait until 65 plus four months. Since you were born in 1940 you will have to wait until 65 plus six months for full benefits. When the change is completely phased in, people who were born in 1960 or later will have to wait until age 67 for full benefits.

Retirees still will have the option of drawing benefits as early as age 62, but since they will be further away from full retirement age the amount of reduction will be greater.

Q. My neighbor told me that Social Security is based on the last five years of work. I plan to retire at age 55. Surely this doesn't mean that I won't get any Social Security. Right?

A. Many people mistakenly believe that Social Security retirement benefits are based on the last five years or the best five years of work.

Actually, your benefits will be computed based on the earnings you have had throughout most of your working lifetime.

For example, someone turning age 62 this year will have their Social Security benefits computed based on their best 35 years of earnings that were covered by Social Security. Someone turning 62 next year will have their benefits based on their best 34 years. The computation for people born in 1929 or later will be based on their 35 best years of earnings.

To receive an estimate of your future Social Security benefits call 800-234-5772.

WASHINGTON — Here are the votes of U.S. representatives on major legislation in Congress last week.

Phoenix Crisis Center receives donation

Phoenix Crisis Center for Abused Women and Children was the recipient last month of a $3,500 contribution from the Employee Charity and Community Services Program of McDonnell Douglas Corp.

The gift, given on behalf of the employees of McDonnell Douglas, was donated to Phoenix for operating expenses.

Carol Chiappa, director of the agency, said, "I'm grateful and excited to receive the badly needed contribution. We have grown in five years and are ready for expansion to fully accommodate the battered children and women in this area."

heating and refrigeration, and another one upgrading her secretarial skills.

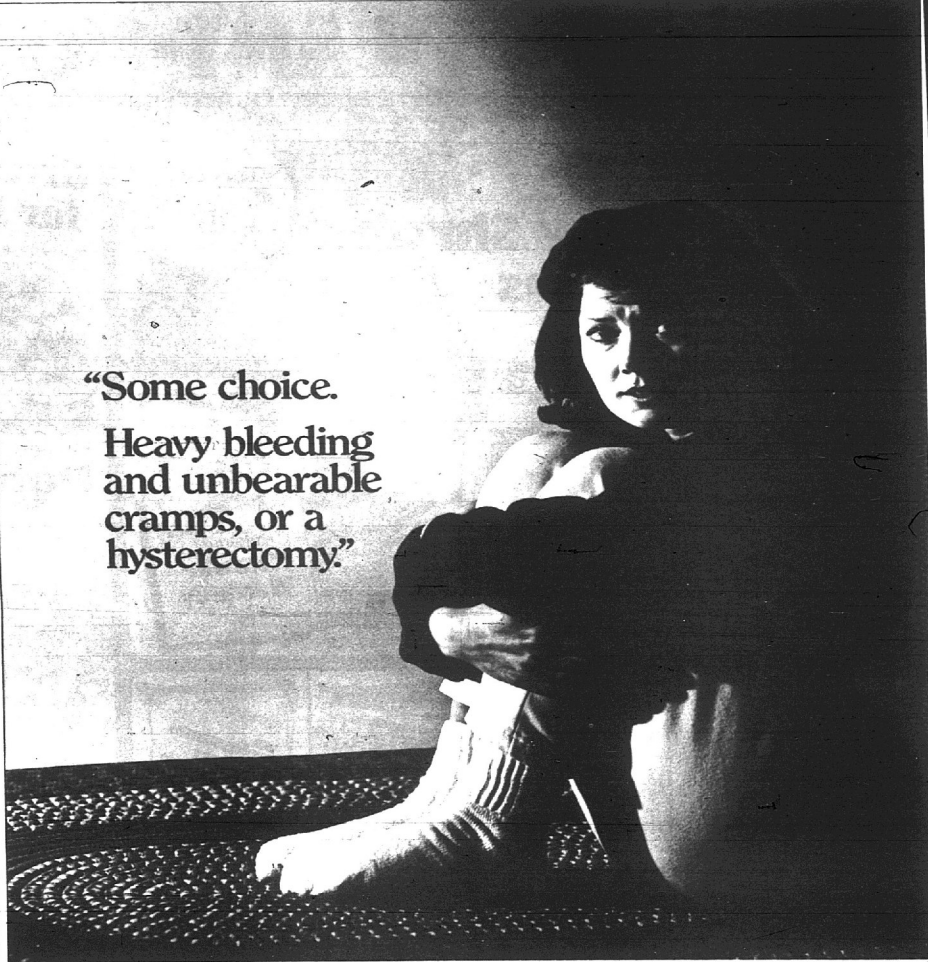

Chiappa added she will conduct another workshop for volunteers during the summer. Those interested in participating in the 14-hour course may call 451-1008 to register.

"Since the inception of this agency," she said, "the public has been generous with money, food and household products to help the house run with a home atmosphere. Churches and civic organizations have been the backbone of the agency."

"Volunteers, both women and their spouses, have donated many hours of time to assist the agency with its many chores — to benefit Phoenix and to offer help to those in need.

"At the present time we are in need of infant equipment such as swings, beds, mattresses, port-a-crib with mattress, strollers and car seats. Other needed items are bunk beds, six kitchen chairs, six dining room chairs, paper products and cleaning supplies. Anyone who wishes to donate the above items may call 451-1008 for pickup service."

"Some choice.
Heavy bleeding and unbearable cramps, or a hysterectomy."

Now you have another option.

DePaul Health Center's new laser surgery techniques are providing alternatives for women who don't want to be sidelined while suffering for days each month, and who are frightened at the thought of a hysterectomy.

This outpatient laser program is eliminating the need for a hysterectomy for many women who suffer from such problems as excessive menstrual flow, severe pelvic pain, infertility, or pain during intercourse.

Physicians at DePaul are treating bleeding by using a laser to remove the uterine lining while leaving the uterus in place. Other surgical procedures use lasers to effectively treat fibroid tumors, endometriosis, or surface lesions.

In most cases, patients return home the day of surgery.

Treatment for abnormal bleeding requires no incision, and patients report that their recovery period is similar to that of a D & C...two days.

Pelvic pain, endometriosis and fibroid tumor treatments make use of small incisions, and recovery time is usually one week or less.

DePaul's laser surgery is proving to be a solution for many women for whom the standard treatments with hormones or a D & C have proven ineffective, and whose symptoms continue.

It appears to offer a far safer alternative to hysterectomy, which is second only to Cesarean section as the most common surgery in this country.

And, the typical charge is less than half the cost of a traditional hysterectomy.

For more information on laser surgery as an alternative to a hysterectomy for treating excessive monthly flow or pain, call the oldest, most experienced and most advanced laser program in St. Louis at (314) 344-6040.

Cusack wary of 'Say Anything' but decided OK to be kid again

By Harry Hamn
Staff affiliate

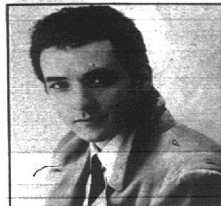

In "Say Anything," Evanston, Ill., native John Cusack plays an 18-year-old high school senior who falls for a beautiful classmate.

Cusack, 22, was a little wary of the role at first. After films like "Class," "Stand By Me," "One Crazy Summer," "Sixteen Candles" and "The Sure Thing," he was afraid to portray another high-schooler.

"I didn't want to do it, but then I realized the character of Lloyd Dobler was a real character and this wasn't just another genre film," Cusack said. "It was a movie about people who just happen to be young and living in Seattle who have a very real situation presented to them."

"In fact, I wouldn't call 'Say Anything' a youth film. It's just a good picture. It shows that young people are well aware about the world and what they are going through. It shows that not all kids are lost in some white-linen-tunnel reality, only concerned about being cute or a smart ass or having sex."

Cusack's love interest in the film, Diane Court, is played by Ione Syke.

John Cusack

Cusack's next film, due out in the fall, is called "Fat Man and Little Boy." It is about the making of the atomic bomb. The movie is directed by Roland Joffe ("The Killing Fields," "The Mission") and Cusack's co-star is Paul Newman.

"It's going to be an intense film," Cusack predicts, noting it has a "great director, great script, and Paul Newman. I play a young scientist who was a protege to Robert Oppenheimer and the movie is Joffe's view of the history of that time."

Being a Midwesterner has given Cusack a rather unusual impression of Hollywood.

"Tell people in St. Louis they're not missing anything in Hollywood," said Cusack, who lives in Chicago. "It's a stupid place. Pretentious people. People who can't do anything but talk about themselves."

Cusack has just formed his own company, New Crime Productions, an organization Cusack said was formed to do original theater and to spread radical content and good energy in entertainment — anything to get people thinking.

"Through my work, I hope I can contribute something to people being aware," Cusack said. "Don't believe that the media presents all the relevant facts and then take them on face value. Research things. The media is owned by corporate America and some news never gets out, while other news, sometimes unworthy, gets front page treatment."

"These are scary times."

Endangered species site proposed at zoo

By Charles Mosley
Staff affiliate

St. Louis Zoo officials hope to build an endangered species center just west of the existing zoo grounds in Forest Park.

The proposed center would be located on a 9.5-acre site between Wells and Government drives, said Annabeth Calkins, the city's manager of Forest Park.

"It would include enclosures for animals, but no major structures would be built, she said."

Robert Hyland, president of the St. Louis Zoological Commission, said the center should be considered a top priority.

"We need to do something for endangered species," Hyland said. "But we're really still in the embryonic stage on this. We're moving along very slowly."

Hyland said the site for the proposed center would be ideal because of its proximity to the zoo.

Calkins said she could not comment on specific parts of the plan because discussions between the parks department and the St. Louis Zoological Commission have just begun.

Under the plan, the zoo would lease the site, which is sometimes used as a picnic area, she said. The area includes a public restroom, bike paths, a small pavilion and some totem poles.

"In return for the lease on the land, parks officials have asked the zoo to remove the closed-off portion of Washington Drive near the World's Fair Pavilion and restore it to park ground by planting trees and grass, she said."

Washington Drive forms the eastern boundary of the zoo.

Part of the road has been closed to traffic for the past two years. The zoo would need approval from the city's Board of Aldermen to lease the site for the center, and the overall plan would need to be approved by the city's Heritage and Urban Design Commission, Calkins said.

Calkins said she is unsure how many animals would be housed on the site.

Neither Calkins nor Hyland would speculate on how long it might take for zoo and parks officials to work out final details.

Free lectures at history museum

"Women of Property: Mary Hempstead Lisa and Jeannette Fourchet" will be the first in a series of free gallery lectures to be given at the History Museum in conjunction with the exhibition "La Ville de Pain Court: St. Louis 1764-1820."

The exhibit celebrates the 225th anniversary of the founding of St. Louis.

Katherine T. Corbett, the museum's curator of education, will give the talk at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 7, in the Jefferson Memorial Building in Forest Park.

The exhibition and lecture series are sponsored by the Suburban Journals.

Surrounded by written records and historical items from the 18th and early 19th centuries that are included in the exhibit, Corbett will discuss aspects of the very different lives of two women who pioneered the western frontier.

Mary Hempstead Keeney came west from Connecticut in 1811 with her young son to live on her father's farm, five miles south of the village of St. Louis. In 1818 she married Manuel Lisa, a Spanish Creole fur trader, one of the most controversial adventurers in the Louisiana Territory.

She traveled with him up the Missouri River and participated in the multicultural world of the fur trade. On exhibit is a love letter from Lisa to his wife, describing his experiences in the wilderness.

Jeannette Fourchet, a free black woman, came to St. Louis shortly after its founding. She lived in her own home and owned land in the common fields. She married Valentine, a free black gunsmith, who died in 1780, and put legal claim to the possessions she had brought to the marriage.

Representative pieces, such as an armoire, gun barrel, dough trough and copper pot, may be seen in the exhibition.

"La Ville de Pain Court: St. Louis 1764-1820" tells the story of the development of St. Louis through the lives of these women and 10 other people who witnessed life here in this period.

The free exhibition continues during museum hours, 9:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday, through 1989.

The 225th anniversary gallery lecture series will include the following talks:

• June 18—"The World of Emilie Sauveteur Labadie Pratte," granddaughter of Marie Chouteau and mother of seven children, including one mayor of St. Louis; by Magdalyn Sebastian, the museum's registrar.

• July 9—"Redeeming the Heavens Land: Sin and Salvation in Early St. Louis," a lecture on the evangelical efforts of Protestant missionary Salmon Giddings; by Kenneth H. Winn, the museum's historian in residence.

• Aug. 13—"Fashions and Fashionability in Creole St. Louis," a discussion of what people wore and how "new looks" such as the Empire style reached the frontier; by Sharon Fivel, the museum's Bascom curator of costumes.

• Sept. 10—"Backsliders and Benefactors: A Saint and a Sinner: The People Bishop DuBourg Dealt With in Early St. Louis," the early Jesuit foundation of Florissant, Philippine Duchesne and Angelo Inglesi; by the Rev. William B. Faherty.

Talks in October, November and December will focus on the fur trade, on William Clark of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, and on the Spanish presence in the Mississippi Valley.

If you like cold hard cash a lot, you'll really like this museum

Walk into the Mercantile Money Museum in downtown St. Louis, press a button and Ben Franklin will come to life.

The audiovisual mannequin of old Ben, probably one of history's favorite figures, is lifelike and holds a kite. He expounds on money matters and other issues of his day. Three "cameras" animate his face as he talks, as they do another mannequin, this one a counterfeiter in prison stripes who laments his life of crime.

The mannequins are among the more interesting features of the museum, located in the Mercantile Tower at 7th and Washington. Just go in the Mercantile Tower at 7th and Washington. Just go in the door, take the escalator one floor up and turn to the right.

The museum is a cooperative venture of the bank and the U.S. Mint in Philadelphia hired two women in 1795 to weight gold planchets (coin blanks).

• In 1881, the U.S. Treasury hired Sophia E. Spinner, a free native black woman, as a charwoman. When she retrieved

The museum collection consists of Newman's collection of coins and bills over 68 years. He began collecting when he was given a cent by his grandfather.

Newman acknowledges that the museum is one of this area's hidden attractions.

The museum is open only during banking hours 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday except for legal holidays.

Besides the animated figures and the displays children can put a penny in a machine and it will come out rolled into an oval shape with a picture of Franklin and the museum's name engraved on it.

Here are some of the things visitors will learn about money in the museum:

• Since the early days of the nation, females participated in the checking of coin weight. The U.S. Mint in Philadelphia hired two women in 1795 to weight gold planchets (coin blanks).

• In 1881, the U.S. Treasury hired Sophia E. Spinner, a free native black woman, as a charwoman. When she retrieved $300,000 in paper money that was mistakenly discarded, she was promoted to messenger and served until she died in 1900.

• Black slaves were featured at work in many vignettes on U.S. paper money. They were shown picking cotton, herding cattle, working in the fields and levees.

• After the colonists adopted the Indian's "wampum" as their medium of exchange, the American Indian became a popular feature on currency.

• There really was a $3 bill. It was commonly used until the Civil War, beginning in 1775 when the Continental Congress issued a $3 bill to finance the Revolution.

• There is a display of early coin changers and counters. One, called Garrett's Bijou Automatic Gold Coin Changer, was used in England in the late 19th century at amusement parks and resorts. Customers put a gold coin in a slot and out came a cupful of change.

• Some states issued odd denominations of money: $3½, $9, 12 cents and $1.25.

CELEBRATE SOBER

A CLASS ACT

GET IN THE ACT

Channel 5, McDonald's, Six Flags, TREND (Turning Recreational Excitement in New Directions) and the Suburban Journals want to make it a safe and happy prom/graduation season for the thousands of teens celebrating this spring season.

We're inviting students to get in the act by launching their own school effort to spread the message.

Exciting prizes will be awarded to the schools and students who launch the most effective class program including:

- a trip to New York to see "Late Night with David Letterman"
- a chance to appear in a Channel 5 "Celebrate Sober" public service announcement
- a "Class" Day at Six Flags
- a computer, VCR, and much more!

All entries must be postmarked by May 15, and delivered to:

CELEBRATE SOBER
c/o TREND
National Council on Alcohol & Drug Abuse
8790 Manchester Road
St. Louis, Mo 63144

Winners will be announced at the "Celebrate Sober Thank You" Party at Six Flags, on Friday, June 9. Winners need not be present to win. No purchase is necessary.

For more information on contest details, call TREND at 314/962-9455.

Ohlendorf named to succeed Deterding

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — To the surprise of very few, Bill Ohlendorf was named Tuesday to succeed Don Deterding as the Warriors' basketball coach.

Ohlendorf, who turned 50 today, celebrates his birthday with a return to the head coaching ranks after six years away from a job.

The Venice native had served as an assistant under Deterding for the past several years after a 10-year stint as the only head basketball coach in the history of Granite City North High School. Before that, Ohlendorf had more than 300 wins in a 12-year stint (1961-73) at Venice High School.

He was hired as the Warriors' next head coach by a unanimous vote of the school board at Tuesday's board meeting.

"Don and I had discussed the possibility of me moving up to the head job during the season," said Ohlendorf. "That was one reason why I was moved up to the top assistant job for last season. I debated it and made a positive decision to apply for the job about midway through the season."

"It just tickles me to death to see Bill get the job," said Deterding, who is retiring after 29 years of coaching. "It won't be much of a transition. He knows the players and the players know him. He's an excellent coach and our philosophies don't really vary that much. I'm glad to not be leaving the job in a depressed state."

Ohlendorf is a 1957 graduate of Venice High School and attended Erskine (S.C.) College on a basketball scholarship. He got a degree in physical education from Erskine in 1961 and returned home to coach the Red Devils.

He coached them to third place in the Class A state tournament in 1973 before taking the job at Granite City North.

"This gives me something to think about for the next few months," he said. "I like the kids we have here now. They have dedication and they're working hard to get ready."

The Warriors will return two starters in guards Matt Cook and John VanBuskirk (they will both be seniors), and Ohlendorf will have plenty of size to work with in the Smith twins, Brian and Jeff. They will be sophomores next year. Jeff was 6-7 at last measurement and Brian was 6-6. Both will likely be bigger next year.

"Bill's a lucky son of a gun," said Deterding, who was rarely blessed with size like that on his teams. "It should be a smooth transition. The kids had a pretty good idea in advance that Bill would be taking over and they should continue to improve."

"All of these kids outside of the two returning seniors played for me at the junior varsity level this year," said Ohlendorf. "I don't know what our record was and I really don't care. The JV level is there to accomplish some things and I feel we did that."

"I'm definitely happy for Bill," said athletic director Greg Patton. "He was my recommendation all the way. When you lose someone like Don not only as a coach but as a friend, it's good to see someone like Bill move up. It was a good choice."

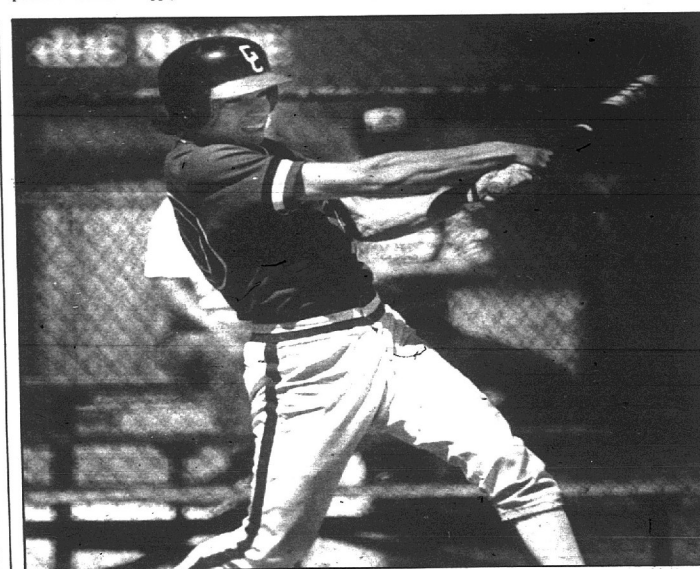

Hall of Fame dinner Friday

The third annual Granite City Sports Hall of Fame dinner will be held Friday at the St. Gregory Armenian Hall, 10 Colonial Drive in Granite City.

Fifteen individuals and two teams will be inducted into the Hall of Fame in ceremonies following the dinner. Happy hour will be at 5 p.m., followed by dinner at 6 p.m. Jim Bolen of KMOV-TV (Channel 4) is scheduled to appear as the Master of Ceremonies.

The 1989 class of inductees includes Leo Padgett, Tom Carmody, Ken Parker, Al Mance, Frank Knight, Harold L. Henson, Rudy Diak, Cameron Van Buskirk, Donald G. Pindell, Terry Tessary Sr., Carl Grunwald, Audelle (Harry) Breckner, Ham Gregory, Mary Paschoff and Bette Jean Logsdon. In addition, the 1948 Granite City High School baseball team, which won the state championship, and the undefeated 1928 Warren football team will be inducted.

The original class of inductees in 1987 numbered 50. There were 47 more individuals inducted last year as well as the 1940 state championship Warrior basketball team and the 1939 James Stuart DeMolay baseball team which won a national championship.

MIKE MUELLER had a double and two RBIs for the Warriors in Tuesday's game at Alton.

Four-run Alton fifth costly to Warriors

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

ALTON — Although there are seven innings in your average high school baseball game, the tale can often be told in just one.

The Warriors played to the tune of the fifth-inning blues Tuesday in Alton. The Redbirds scored four times in that frame for a come-from-behind 5-4 win in a game Granite City needed to win.

"One inning did it," said Warrior coach Bob Stegmeyer. "We made bad pitches to good hitters and didn't make a couple of plays we should have."

The loss dropped the Warriors to 2-4 in conference play and put them in a three-way tie with the Redbirds and Collinsville (a 2-0 victory Tuesday over East St. Louis) for the bottom spot. The loss also didn't help the Warriors in their quest to gain one of the top seeds in the regional. Alton is now 7-10 overall.

"I think this might have knocked us out of getting a home game in the regional," said Stegmeyer.

Yellow Jackets slash Warriors

GRANITE CITY — Pitching was in short supply Wednesday as New Athens hammered the Warriors 20-10 in a non-conference game at Varsity Field.

Bob Stegmeyer's pitching plans were disrupted when sophomore Dave Boley had to leave the game in the first inning with a shoulder injury. Granite City had a 7-2 lead after three innings as Ryan Reeves threw well, but things turned sour after that.

The Yellow Jackets (6-12) scored seven in the fourth and 11 in the fifth to break the game open. Bob Terrell took the loss, while Eric Lewis and Keith Matlock also pitched.

"I didn't want to throw any of those sophomores too much and jeopardize the sophomore tournament this weekend," said Stegmeyer.

Jim McKeehan, Mike Mueller and Terrell each had two hits as the Warriors tallied 10 hits. But Bob DeSpain had a grand slam off Matlock in the 11-run fifth. New Athens had 20 hits.

All of the varsity players will be back in uniform as the Warriors host Belleville East in a double-header at 4:30 p.m. today.

Rich Wilson

Scott LeVault

Ex-Warriors doing well in college ball

Two former Warrior baseball players continued to do well in college baseball. Richie Wilson, who batted .465 his senior year (1987) at Granite City High School, is the starting center fielder for the Illinois College team in Jacksonville. The sophomore is hitting .245 and leads the Blueboys in hits with 13 and runs with seven. He is the son of Richard and Loretta Wilson of Granite City.

Illinois College is 2-4 in the Midwest Athletic Conference and 4-11 overall.

Scott LeVault now has a 5-2 record for the Aurora (Ill.) University Spartans. LeVault, a sophomore, has a 4.00 ERA and 15 strikeouts.

"Scott has played a key role of our pitching staff this season," said Aurora coach Jim Schmid. "He has been a consistent performer for us who knows how to win."

Aurora is 6-0 in the Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference and 19-7 overall. The Spartans clinched a tie for the conference title with a pair of 7-3 victories over Illinois Benedictine on April 22. Aurora has lost only five conference games in six years.

LeVault, a psychology major, is the son of Marty and Linda LeVault of Granite City. He was also a member of the AU football team which was 7-2 last fall.

CRA Sprint Showdown is Friday

The Texaco/Skoal Racing Sprint Car Showdown is set for Friday at Tri-City Speedway.

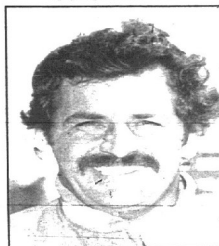

Wente Enterprises of St. Charles, Mo., will host the sprint cars and stars of the California Racing Association for their first appearance at the area's finest half-mile racing facility. The Southern California-based sprint car organization will be making its fifth annual midwestern tour which began Wednesday in Wichita, Kan. In addition, the program will feature midwest racing to add local interest to this one-time event.

Leading a list of more than 30 entries on the Midwest Tour is 1988 CRA champion Ron Shuman, 1986 and 1987 titlist Brad Noffsinger, 1985 champ Eddie Wirth and the "Tempe Tornado," Lealand McSpadden, the winningest driver in CRA. They will face a strong challenge from the best in the midwest, which includes USAC champions Jack Hewitt, Rich Vogler, Steve Butler and Ricky Hood, who will race for more than $15,000 in prize money.

The CRA was established in 1946 as the California Roadster Association. It changed to the California Racing Association in 1963. It is now the oldest sprint car association in the country and the only non-winged association in the country running on a regular weekly schedule.

Indianapolis 500 drivers from the CRA ranks include winners Troy Ruttman and Parnelli Jones along with top runners Jack McGrath, Manuel Ayulo, Jim Hurtubise, Bob Sweikert, Pat Flaherty along with the Umsers, John Andretti and A.J. Foyt.

The home track for many years has been Agapijian Enterprises Ascot Park in Gardena, Calif., right in the heart of the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

(Photo by Joe Senter) LISA FRENCH, 17, will be one of the featured drivers in the Mighty Midget race which will be held in conjunction with the CRA sprint car race at Tri-City Speedway on Friday.

Ascot's half-mile clay oval is rich in racing history and one of the nation's most revered tracks. The 10-event program Friday at Tri-City will start at 7 p.m. with sprint car qualifying, sprint and midget heats, and two championship main events. The Mighty Midgets will feature 17-year-old Lisa French of Washington, Ia. She drove Go Karts and ¼ midgets before moving up to the Mighty Midgets. There will be approximately 30 Midgets on hand for the Midwest Auto Racing Association event. Tickets are available at the gate on race day. Tickets are $12.50 for adults, $5 for children 5-15 and free for children under 5. Tri-City Speedway is located a half mile south of Interstate 270 on Illinois 203 in Granite City. For more information, call Bob Wente at 314-947-7287 or the track at 931-9965.

Steinhaus finally gets first victory

By Joe Senter

Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — Gibby Steinhaus finally made his trip from Chicago worthwhile Saturday as he won the U.M.P. late model stock car feature event at Tri-City Speedway.

Steinhaus has been making the long trip from Chicago on a regular basis and has been knocking on the door of the $1,500-to-win feature event. He finally got the job done in his #21 car. Steinhaus said he will continue to be a regular competitor throughout the season.

John Prior, the oil well baron from Centralia, finished second, while Scott Ford was third, Terry Messenger was fourth, Chris Bargetzi was fifth, Bert Cheatham was sixth, Rick Standridge was seventh, Jim Durbin was eighth, Ron Fisher ninth and Gary Archambault tenth.

Steinhaus and Standridge took the heat races followed by Durbin and Cheatham, respectively. The trophy dash was taken by Cheatham followed by Messenger and Ford.

Archambault was the winner in the sportsman's car feature. He was followed by John Seets, Randy Korte, Tom Seets, Don Carter and Bart Sifford. Archambault and Korte took the heat races followed by Steve Stevenson and Carter, respectively. John Seets took the trophy dash followed by Carter and Mike Cooksey.

Dave Jones won his first feature event for 1989 in the street stock race driving his 1899 IROC Chevy #8. Don McElroy was second, Jim Martin third, Rick Carter fourth, Bill Vinyard fifth and Bill Patton sixth. Jones, Martin and Rick Rhoades took the heat races with Patton taking the trophy dash followed by Vinyard and John Stanton.

Harry Alton, the new owner of the track, is very pleased with the number of cars which have participated in the first few programs and with the way the program has been completed at an early hour thanks to the work of promoter Dennis Hicks.

PSG wrestling sites, dates announced

Sites and dates have been announced for regional tournaments in the Prairie State Games wrestling competition.

Russ Baum of Granite City, the wrestling coach at Cahokia High School, will coach the Region 9 (Southern) squad. Scholastic competition will be held May 13 at Belleville Area College. Weigh-ins will be from 9-10 a.m. in freestyle and Greco-Roman. Open competition will be at SIUE on May 20. Weigh-ins will be from 10-11 a.m. in freestyle and Greco-Roman.

A $5 tournament entry fee enables a wrestler to compete in both the freestyle and Greco-Roman tournaments. An additional $5 fee will be collected from wrestlers who wish to use the PSG Regional as an IWF qualifier. For more information, call 1-800-323-2900. The Prairie State Games finals will be held July 13-16 in Champaign.

ville East, which scored a big 2-0 win over Belleville West on Tuesday.

Roxana (1-12) held the lead three times. The Shells led 1-0 after a half inning, 2-1 after two and 3-0 after the fourth. A couple of walks and a triple by losing pitcher Nicholle Martin scored the first Roxana run. A hit batsman and a couple of wild pitches sandwiched around a stolen base produced another run, while Roxana's third run came on three walks and an RBI triple by Hawkins. In the meantime, Granite City was trying to play catch up.

The Lady Warriors scored in the first as Tiffany Winters walked with one out. She stole second, went to third when Roxana center fielder Debbie Harvill dropped a routine fly ball and scored on a fielder's choice by Jennifer Cavanes. The Lady Warriors tied it again in the third when Winters singled with one out. Mindy Hoth hit into a force play, but Michelle Bequette tripled, scoring Hoth to tie the score.

Granite City finally flexed its muscles in the fourth as it sent ten hitters to the plate, scoring four times, while Roxana helped with four errors. In all, the Shells committed six errors. Pawlak opened the inning with a single. Julie Bailey reached when first baseman Jennifer Huggins misplayed her ground er. Friscilla Meyerberg followed with a single to left scoring Pawlak with the go-ahead run. Winters added a two-run single while Hoth also drove in a run with a hit, giving the Lady Warriors a 7-3 lead. Davis was pleased to see his team produce some solid hitting, especially the lower part of the batting order.

"We've had a hard time getting the bottom part of our batting order on base," he said. "Our top five hitters are solid, but if the lower part of the order can produce like it did today, then we'll be able to produce some more punch in our offense."

Granite City added a pair of runs in the sixth on a single by Bequette and an RBI triple by Pawlak, who later scored on a wild pitch to make it 9-3. The insurance runs looked good when the Shells staged a mini-rally in the seventh. With one out, Beth Buford walked. She stole second and moved to third on a throwing error by Bequette. Martin produced a sacrifice fly to make it 9-4.

Roxana proceeded to load the bases on two hits, and a walk to Julie Futrell forced in a run to make it 9-5 and brought the tying run to the plate. Pawlak came on, though, and ended the suspense.

Davis, who was concerned with Roxana before the game, was glad for the victory. "We have to be able to beat the teams that we're supposed to beat if we are to be successful," he said. "Then we can take our chances to upset someone like a Belleville East or a Belleville West."

On Tuesday, the Lady Warriors were their own worst enemies as they committed eight errors and blew a 6-2 first-inning lead. Granite City and Alton are tied for fourth in the SWC at 2-4. The Redwings are 3-7 overall.

8 local players still in running

Eight players from Granite City were among those selected by the Junior Olympic Development Program coaching staff to be part of preliminary state select soccer teams.

The competition and evaluation is part of the 1989 JODP and the Elite Select Program organized every year by the Illinois Youth Soccer Association with the participation of the Affiliated Illinois soccer leagues.

Granite Citizens selected from the weekend of evaluation on April 22-23 at Dadds Park in Champaign and their age groups are: J. Bernard Anderson, Larry Bridges, Eric Jones and Matthew Little (13½); Eric Davis and Jason Mathenia (14½); Jonathan Birdsong (15½); and Timothy Hartwick (17½).

These players will advance to the next round of competition and evaluation in Rockford to be part of the final state pool team for 1989.

genuine. "We split with Alton, we split with Jerseyville and Wood River was beating us 6-2 when the game was called. Edwardsville figures to get the top seed, I know I couldn't vote us very highly."

While one had inning hurt the Warriors on Tuesday, they only had one good inning themselves with the bats. Alton scored off Kevin Wozniak in the first on an RBI double by right fielder Gary Hubbard, a .385 hitter. The Warriors tied the game in the second when Keith Matlock singled, advanced to second on Rob Terrell's infield out and scored when left fielder Ryan Mouser dropped Ryan Reeves' fly ball for a two-out error.

Granite City scored three in the third after two were out. Mike Nordstrom got a bunt hit and Joe Wallace singled in left. Mike Mueller then doubled past third and into the left-field corner to score both runners. Mueller then scored when Jeff Thompson, swinging on a 3-0 count, doubled to right-center and it was 4-1.

But Thompson was picked off second to end the inning and Alton right-hander Joey Porter, who entered the game with a 4.76 ERA, allowed only one more baserunner, and that was on an error. Porter didn't walk anyone.

"We got some breaks early in the game when we got out of some jams," said Stegemeier. "And outside of that one inning, we were very mediocre at the plate."

The Warriors had only five hits, with four of them coming back-to-back in the third. Wozniak survived trouble in the fourth after the first two batters reached. Mouser was out trying to steal second, then Matlock made a nice catch on Jeff Mossman's fly to right. But there was no escape in the fifth.

Porter singled before Brian Mossman bounced a hit past Terrell at first, Porter going to third. Porter tagged up and scored on K.C. Doucett's foul pop to first while Mossman took second on the late throw home. Then Hubbard ripped an 0-2 pitch off the fence in left-center to make it a 4-3 game.

"Kevin didn't pitch smartly," Stegemeier said. "He threw a gut pitch to a very good hitter on an 0-2 count. We've been beaten like that before. It always seems to hurt us."

Tom Brinkman doubled to deep right-center to drive in the tying run on a ball Stegemeier thought Reeves might have caught. Colten Steiner, pinch-running for Brinkman, went to third when Brian Schildroth reached on a passed ball by Mueller on strike three. Steiner scored the winning run on Mouser's infield hit.

"They made the plays and we didn't," Stegemeier said. "The hit past first could have been handled, we should catch the fly ball in center and then we have the passed ball. Alton isn't that good of a ball club. We're as good as they are. And we didn't lose today because we were playing sophomores. They know how to play and should have made the plays to win."

Wallace took the loss although he got out of a bases-loaded, one-out jam to end the fifth. The Warriors had one more chance when Thompson reached on a two-out error by shortstop Ray Watske. He moved to second on a balk, but Jeff Mossman made a nice catch of Matlock's sinking line drive to center to end the inning. The Warriors went quietly in the seventh as Porter improved his record to 4-3.

"Keith hit the ball as hard as you can in the sixth," Stegemeier said. "We got a break with the error and the balk, but we have to make them pay for those mistakes and we didn't."

NOTES: In other conference action Tuesday, Belleville went to the seventh as Porter improved his record to 4-3. "I guess the bottom line is it's hard to say with the Kentucky Derby. But I'd look for Easy Goer to go off at 3-to-5 odds."

entry to win two Derby preliminaries in April with Western Playboy, who captured the Jim Beam Stakes on April 1 and Blue Grass Stakes on April 15 (both 1 1/4 miles).

"Western Playboy runs pretty well," Pace said. "He can lay off the pace a bit and maybe make a late run at it. In the Jim Beam and Blue Grass he got in trouble in mid-race and still managed to win, which is the sign of a good horse."

Pace and track announcer/handicapper John Scully agree that Sunday Silence and Houston are other good choices for a Derby surprise. Houston won the Derby Trial Stakes last Saturday at Churchill.

"Houston came back with a nice race after a terrible outing the previous time out," Scully said. "Sunday Silence ran a
